RICH GOLD DEPOSITS.

Americans Interested in New Discoveries in Argentine Republic.
(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—(Special Dispatch.) The Herald's Buenos Ayres cable special says that great excitement has been created here by the disovery of rich gold deposits near Man doza. An American firm is interested. Several mines have been opened, and the ore taken out has proved to be re-markably rich. That part of it brought here for assay by the government as-sayer ran thirty-five ounces to the ton. This is believed to be a fair average for all the ore taken out. The discovery of the deposit was kept a profoun cret until the owners could perfec their plans.

Samples of the ore have been sent to London, and banking houses in the United States have been interested in the financial operations. Coal and water in abundance are near by, and, as the ore is free, milling development will be easy, and the cost moderate. Mendoza is the capital of the province of Mendoza. It has a population of about 20,000, and the province has 160,000.

Allen G. Thurman Dead at Columbus.

The End Came Suddenly, but Very Peacefully.

His Fatal Illness Due to a Fall Which He Received Last Month.

The Closing Days of His Long and Useful Life Passed in the Midst of Scenes Which He Most Loved.

COLUMBUS (0.,) Dec. 12.-The long and useful career of Judge Allen G.
Thurman came to a close this aftermoon at 1:15 o'clock at his residence, corner of Rich street and Washington avenue. The end was peaceful in the extreme, and the soul of the great man left the earthly habitation without a sign of physical distress. At the in-stant of dissolution and for some hours before, Judge Thurman had been lying worse became quite marked shortly after midnight on Wednesday, and at 2 o'clock Thursday morning the family became alarmed and sent for the doctor. At that time Dr. Whittaker found his patient almost unconscious. Mucous had filled the bronchial tubes and his breathing was labored. Dr. Whittaker gave him a little water and whisky, which he swallowed with difficulty. He seemed, however, to be partially conscious of what he was doing. He then sank into a heavy stupor, from which he never aroused. It was known at 2 o'clock in the morning that the beginning of the end had set in, and the family was so notified.

At 10 o'clock this morning Dr. Whittaker found the patient gradually sinking.
He gave him a little water and whisky,
which was swallowed mechanically, Judge Thurman was perfectly unconscious and remained so until he passed away at 1:15 o'clock in the afternoon.
At the final scene all the members of the immediate family were at his bedside. He seemed to be free from all distress and during the morning hours all that the sorrowing family could do was to moisten his parched ips at intervals. Those present at the death scene were: Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Thurman and the following grandchildren: Lee, Miss Catherine. Allen G., Jr. Daniel C. and Sterling Thurman, all children of apartments in the second story of the residence where he spent the last days of his life in a remarkably pleasant and agreeable manner.

The beginning of Judge Thurman's fatal illness dates from November 7 last, when he fell heavily while walk-ing across the library floor. A few days after the fall Judge Thurman's life was despaired of, but he rallied life was despaired of, but he railied from the shock, and at times seemed to have regained his old-time vigor.

On November 13 Judge Thurman was 82 years of age, and on that date several of his old friends called on him, and he had a pleasant chat. On that occasion he smoked a cigar with his friends, and seemed unusually cheerful and bright. Since the accident he has had his good days and his bad ones. He has been confined to his bed nearly all the time and his physician, Dr. W. H. Whittaker, called on him daily. That he was steadily growing weaker was apparent to all, and it has been known for some time that his lease on life could not be protracted much longer.

known for some time that his lease on life could not be protracted much longer.

On account of his confinement to a bed, Judge Thurman began to be affected with bed-sores, and to relieve this unpleasantness he at times sat up and stood up, but he had not attempted to walk since his fall. Last Tuesday, when Dr. Whittaker called, he found his patient sitting up in a chair smoking a cigar and apparently enjoying it. He shook hands with the doctor and said: "My dear Doctor, sit down and talk to me."

He seemed very buoyant and joked, and, as was his habit, talked to the doctor in French. It should be remarked that recently it seemed to be one of Judge Thurman's delights to talk French, showing the remarkable vigor of his mental powers. Last Tuesday Dr. Whittaker noticed that he did not continue his French conversation as long as usual and soon tired of his cigar, and when he got back into bed his pulse was rather feeble.

When Dr. Whittaker saw Judge Thurman on Wednesday about 4 o'clock, he seemed listless and rather heavy about his eyes, and in his mental operations. However, he recognized the members of the family. The change for the edge he prized so dearly and amid the scenes where he has spent so many pleasant hours of happy old age, the vital spark took wings from the image of clay.

Shortly after his fall several weeks ago Judge Thurman's bed was moved from the adjoining bedroom to his beloved library and he remained there. Judge Thurman has lived with his son, Allen W. Thurman, since the death of his wife several years ago, and, being unable to leave the house, took up apartments in the second story of the residence where he spent the last days of his life in a remarkably pleasant contemporaries.

"After being the recipient of many honors at the hands of his party and his countrymen, he retired to private life with the universal respect and esteem of the clitizens of the republic and the love of all who had the honor of knowing him. His illustrious career is a conspicuous example of the possibilities of American clitizens, and is worthy the sturdy of the youth of our State. The people of Ohlo, regardies of party, will be mourners at his bier. Out of respect to his memory it is hereby ordered that the flag be displayed at half-mast over the State Capitol until after the obsequies."

It was decided to have the funeral at the residence at 10 o'clock on Sunday. Effort will be made to have the services as private as possible, but all who desire will be given an opportunity to view the remains at the residence. Rev. J. T. Grover, who today celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday, will be remains at the residence are will reach the serman. It was Judge Thurman's request that if Rev. Senator Peffer Inveighs Against Funeral Expenses.

Ex-Speaker Grow Attacks the Tariff Features of the Recent Message.

Senator Frye Reintroduces His Bill for the Settlement of the Rail-road Debts-New Bills Introduced.

REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.-The proceedings of the Senate today were more varied. They covered the entire range of legislation from the introduction of of legislation from the introduction of petitions, bills and resolutions, to the passage of bills, and included two formal addresses. A bill extending the Chicago port of entry so as to cover the State of Illinois received the final indorsement of the Senate, having already passed the House. This will probably be the first bill of the Fifty-fourth Congress to become a law.

Senator Thurston of Nebraska today introduced a bill for the settlement of the Pacific relircads' debts. It provides for the sale of the government's interest in both the Union and Central Pacific railroads on July 1, 1896, to the highest bidder, but there shall be no sale unless the bid be at least 50 per cent. of the government interest. The bill is very long, and devoted mainly to the details of the transfer and manner of sale. Its main features have been already published.

Ex-Speaker Grow of Pennsylvania made a speech in the House today of almost on hour on the portion of the President's message referring to the tariff, in which he compared the old protection tariff laws with the custom laws. He showed that the new law, up to December 1, had produced a deficiency of $131,000,000, while under protection measures from 1880 to 1893, the revenues had exceeded the expenditures by $1,316,000,000. He attributed the depletion of the gold reserve to the payment of current deficiencies out of the reserve and maintained that the green backs would not menace the reserve if there was sufficient revenue. It being apparent that Secretary Carlise's report would not be ready this week, the House adjourned over until Moniay. Senator Frye today reintroduced his bill for the settlement of the Pacific railroads' indebtedness. This bill is based upon an investigation made six years ago by the committee of which Senator Frye was chairman. It provides for incorporating the roads and branches in one general company and giving a mortgage to the government on the whole property with bonds running 100 years with gradually increasing interest, beginning for the first tenyears at 1 per cent.

REGULAR SESSION.

RECULAR ASSOCIATION PRIMS REPORTA WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—SENATE.
The proceedings in the Senate today began with the present t on of the usual petition for the recognition of bellig-erent rights of the Cuban insurgents. Senators Cameron and Harris both of-fered motions for the adjournment of the Senate until Monday, when it should adjourn today, and the Vice-the Senate until Monday, when it should adjourn today, and the Vice-President created a ripple of laughter by putting both motions at once. They were adopted.

Senator Stewart of Nevada introduced a resolution instructing the Committee of Finance to inquire into the rates of exchange between the gold-standard and silver-standard countries and their effect on the agricultural and manufacturing interests and gave notice of a speech on Monday.

Senator White of California presented an amendment to the Senate rules, requiring that all debates in the Senate be relevant to the subject before the Senate be relevant to the subject before the Senate.

On motion of Senator, Hansborough a resolution was passed calling upon the Secretary of Agriculaure for information as to whether he had expended all or any part of the last appropriation for the purchase and distribution of seeds. Secretary Morton has refused to spend this money.

Mr. Call then addressed the Senate upon his resolution, declaring it to be the duty of civilized powers to suppress the cruelties alleged to be perpetrated upon the Armenian subjects of Turkey by the Turkish authorities. Mr. Call said that while it was the accepted policy of this government to avoid participation in foreign complications, he learned that the amount fell below the average.

Mr. Peffer declared that the expenditures on account of funerals were continually growing, until the average cost had increased to $4542. The last thirteen busials of the seventy-three which had occurred in the Senate, had cost mere than all the other sixty. Of the 107 Senators who had died while in service, the expenses were greatest in the case of the late Senator George Hearst of California, whose funeral expenses were $21,322. He objected to regarding the treasury as a subject of common plunder for those who choose to prey upon it, and said the best way to get rid of the odium of such a custom was to stop it. He asked in conclusion that the bill be made the unfinished business of the Senate.

to get rid of the odium of such a custom was to stop it. He asked in conclusion that the bill be made the unfinished business of the Senate.

The Senate then went into executive session and at 2 o'clock adjourned until Monday.

Bills were introduced by Senator Thurston increasing all pensions 25 per cent; also establishing a school of forestry in connection with the Department of Agriculture; by Senator Dubols, giving the States of Colorado, California, Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming and South Dakota 25 per cent of the funds from the sale of mineral lands for the support of State schools.

HOUSE—The House decided on convening today to meet again next Monday. Mr. Adams of Pennsylvania objected to the resolution to appoint Postmaster Wilson a regent of the Smithsenian Institution.

On motion of Mr. Lacey of Iowa a resolution was passed calling on the Attorney-General for a detailed statement of the accounts, fees, etc., of the clerks of the United States courts, marshals, commissioners, etc. Mr. Lacey explained that the material was wanted as a basis for a law to make these persons salaried officers.

On motion of Mr. Cannon of Utah a resolution was passed calling on the Secretary of the Interior for the total amount of land assumed by the Union and Central Pacific railroads under the grants of those roads.

Mr. Grow of Pennsylvania addressed the House on the President's message, first having the clerk read that portion relating to the reults of the new tariff law. Mr. Grow called attention to the fact that Cleveland said nothing about the efficiency since June 30, 1894, was $45,000,000,000, and for the first five months of the present fiscal year $18,000,000. The total deficiency since June 30, 1894, was $46,000,000,000, the bonded debt under the present administration had increased if, and which Mr. Cleveland said in his message was insufficient for the purpose of revenue, and which he resident extolled.

last Democratic administration before the war borrowed money to pay expenses.

The present administration, said Mr. Grow, seemed to have begun where the Buchanan administration left off. (Applause and laughter on the Republican side.) As to the President's charge that the McKinley customs law impeded our entrance to the markets of the world, Mr. Grow declared, amid Republican applause, that no market was better than the American market.

"It consists," he said, "of 70,000,000, who consume more than any other-people whom the sun shines on."

For no similar period had the balance of trade been so much in our favor as during the three years the McKinley law was in operation.

An emphatic statement by Mr. Grow that the greenbacks would not be retired was received with a demonstration of applause by the Republicans. The President complained that the greenbacks furnished an endless chain by which the gold reserve was depleted. This was not frank. The greenbacks would endanger the reserve as long as the revenues were not equal to the expenses, and no longer. Paying the current debts of the government out of the reserve was the road to national bankruptcy.

Mr. Grow referred to the elections last fall as a contract of the covernment out of the statement and the statement and the statement out of the grow referred to the elections last fall as a contract of the statement and the statement and the statement out of the grow referred to the elections last fall as a contract of the statement and the statement an the reserve was the road to national bankruptcy.

Mr. Grow referred to the elections last fall as a condemnation of the new tariff law and the policy of the administration and warned the President. "when he had leisure to attend to public affairs," not to disregard the command of the people.

The House then, at 3:45 o'clock, adjourned until Monday.

Among the bills introduced in the House today were the following:

By Mr. Cummings of New York, imposing a fine of not less than $100 for the first and $50 for succeeding unauthorized performances of a copyrighted dramatic or operatic composition, and if the act was wilful and for profit, imprisonment for not less than a year; also making an injunction issued by any United States Circuit Court zerv. imprisonment for not less than a year; also making an injunction issued by any United States Circuit Court serviceable anywhere in the United States; by Mr. Sherman of New York for the battalion organization of the infantry recommended by Secretary Lamont and Gen. Miles; by Mr. Loud for a naval training station on Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco harbor, $100,000; by Mr. Hilborn for a gun factory at Benicla, Cal., $1,000,000, public buildings at Oakland, $500,000, and at Alameda, $200,000; by Mr. Bingham of Pennsylvania, to restore the McKinley rates on importations and manufactures of wool, THE SENATE COMMITTEES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The mem-ers of the Republican Caucus Committee of the Senate have been engaged in conference with members of the Senate in an effort to insure themselves that the in an effort to insure themselves that the committee chairmanships which they will have, will prove satisfactory when the list shall be presented to the caucus. The committee has practically completed this branch of its work, and the members feel after conferring with their colleagues that the allotment they have made will be acceptable to the Republicans.

their colleagues that the allotment they have made will be acceptable to the Republicans.

They have had considerable difficulty in finding a suitable and acceptable chairmanship for Senator Shoup, but have now solved the question by assigning him to the Committee on Education and Labor, of which Senator Kyle, Populist, is chairman. This arrangement will permit the arrangement heretofore made, placing Senator Gallinger at the head of the Pensions Committee. It is quite definitely settled that Senator Platt shall head the Committee on Patents, and Senator Burrows that on Revision of the Laws. The committee will devote the rest of the week to consideration of the makeup of the bodies of the committees, and hope to be able to report to the full caucus by Monday.

The young: stelement of the Republican Senators are now pressing upon their colleagues the importance of organization of the Senate before the Christmast holidays, for the effect the prompt action will have on the country. They began their crusade today, and are of the opinion that the caucus is convinced of the soundness of the argument. Some older Senators are inclined to think this plan would involve unseemly haste, and may antagonize their movement.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—What is claimed to be one of the best rapid-firing guns invented by Maxim arrived here today from Liverpool on the Ma-jestic and is now on its way to Wash-ington. The gun came in charge of W. Broderick Cloete, who represents Maxim. The gun is only a trifle over four feet in length and weighs only 127 pounds. The inventor guarantees its ability to fire 600 rounds per minute, or ten shots a second. It is intended as a naval plece and will have to be tested before it can be accepted. According to Closte, no other country in tested before it can be accepted. According to Cloete, no other country in the world owns a gun that for the size can do as much in a short time as can this gun. It is technically described as an automatic gun, and consists of a barrel surrounded by a water-jacket and the requisite mechanism.

It is entirely automatic in action, being filled with ammunition by ineans of a belt. One man is required to work it and he can devote his entire attention to pointing it. It is adapted estecially spect to the present phase of Armenian affairs, Mr. Foster said: "Upon the British government must rest a large share of responsibility of the existence and continuance of the recent outrages in Asia Minor. But for its intervention the Turkish power would have been completely broken as a result of a Russian war in 1887."

A considerable part of the lecture was taken up with the events leading up to and growing out of the late war between China and Japan. Mr. Foster spoke of the remarkable development of Japan along the line of civilized nations, and her accession to them as a great military power. The interference of the European powers in the war show how intimately their interests are bound up in the affairs of the East. The conduct of England and Russia emphasizes the character of their respective interests. England fears for her vast commerce in the event of war. Russia, with no commerce, interfered only when Japan tried to become a continental power, planting herself in conquered territory.

SALISBURY'S REPLY.

Cleveland Got it by Cable and Then Went Fishing. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)

It appears that Mr. Cleveland was aware of she nature of the answer before he left, and it is believed that he had the entire text by cable from Ambassador Bayard. This, however, was a private communication, and was not the formal submission of Great Britain's answer.

The latter formality occurred after Mr. Cleveland's departure, so it is felt to be a courtesy due the President to await his return and possibly his examination of the original manuscript before giving it to the public. There is no disinclination in London, it is stated, to make the answer public as soon as the proprieties have been observed. WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 .- Lord Salis-

Three years ago a paper published in Chicago began writing up scandalous articles about prominent Sloux. City people. It made a business of extorting money from people by the threat to write them up. Hart acted to write them to compromise these as a go-between to compromise these matters and receive the money. A trap was laid and he was caught receiving money. After a long, sensational trial he and Lewis, the correspondent, were convicted. Lewis tional trial he and Lewis, the correspondent, were convicted. Lewis served his term, but Hart took the case to the Supreme Court, which has now held that he must serve out his term. Hart claimed he had no connection with Lewis, and was merely acting as a friend of the people to whom he went. The Supreme Court holds that the claim of friendship was a mere pretence, "and there is direct evidence as to his guilt," the opinion says, in the attempt to extort from Gilman and Hedges. The record is full of facts and circumstances which point plainly and clearly to his guilt. The judgment of the District Court is affirmed.

HONOLULU, Dec. 6.—(Wired from San Francisco Dec. 12.) The merchants of Seattle, Wash., have made an offer to the Hawaiian planters. They are to the Hawahan planters. They are willing to furnish a site for a sugar refinery; remit the State and county taxes for a term of ten years and offer ther inducements. The idea is to ship raw sugar to Seattle and refine it there and have the vessels return with mer-chandise or freight. If the offer is ac-cepted it will be a severe blow to San Francisco, which now virtually controls the Hawaiian trade.

No definite news has been received from J. B. Atherton, C. M. Cook and H. P. Baldwin, the committee sent by the Hawaiian planters to make a new agreement with the Sugar Trust. Minister Willis has informed this government that the United States will not take action on a claim of $50,000 damages made by one Frank Godfrey to the American Secretary of State. Godfrey's communication for damages contained two complaints; one being that he was detained at the cholera hospital twenty-four hours longer than the period generally observed. The second is a claim that in September last he was attacked by masked men and tarred and feathered by them. Affidavits sustained the second charge.

The Hawaiian government was informed by Minister Willis that the first charge made by Godfrey was not sent to Washington, having been dropped here. So far as the second charge is concerned, the American government made reply that it was a matter solely for the local courts to act upon and that the complaint will not be given recognition at Washington. No mention was made of citizenship, but it is believed that the American government is cognizant of the fact that Godfred has subscribed to the oath of allegiance to the republic and is a qualified voter under its laws.

One of his friends stated that he lost over $5,000 on two races, which makes his losses for the season something like $60,000. He has been on the toboggan slide ever since he reached San Francisco, but until today he has never been known to grow serious over his losses. He had been drinking when he met Starter Caldwell in the Palace bar, and the meeting was a signal for hostillities.

Caldwell denied the allegation and said that while it appeared to the grand stand that Sally Clicquot had been left at the post, the filly, as a matter of fact, had fallen on her knees just as the flag dropped, which left her several lengths in the lurch. Then Caldwell expressed the belief that Santa Bella would have won anyway, and was willing to back his opinion with a bet.

He also applied an offensive epithet to Caldwell and the trouble commenced.

Caldwell is large and strong, while Grannan is very slight. For a minute or so the fight was very lively, but the men were soon separated by specta-tors. Caldwell was uninjured, while Grannan's eves are in mourning.

THE PORTE'S ALLEGATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The Turkish legation has received the following cablegram from the Sublime Porte under today's date:

"The Armenians of Kaib (Bittis) having pretended that their belongings were taken away during the various disorders by the Mussulmans, the imperial authorities ordered an investigation, which establishes the falsity of this assertion, as well as the fact that these very Armenians had left to, the care of their Mussulman neighbors all they possessed. The latter have since restored the goods to their owners. The disorders of last month, it is clearly shown, never had a general character, as neither the Greeks nor the Armenian Catholics had reason to suffer from the Mussulmans, whose only object was to take revenge on the planned aggressions of the Armenian rioters." The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Thomas Armitage, rector of St. Bartholomew's Church of New York, assisted by Rev. Dr. Harris. The maid of honor was Miss Edith Rockefeller, sister of the bride. The best man was Charles McAlpine, brother of the groom, and the ushers were: James G. Gardiner, William Sanderson Brown, Benjamin B. McAlpine, Dr. William Crittenden Lusk, Alfred L. Dennis, P. Avery Rockefeller, O. G. Jennings and John D. Rockefeller, Jr. There were no bridesmaids, but little Adelia and Sarah Fyle, daughters of Mrs. J. Tolman Pyle, nieces of the groom, acted in the capacity of flower girls.

The bride's dreas was of white satin trimmed with Venetian lace, and she wore a Venetian-lace veil, caught up with a diamond tiara. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds. During the ceremony the bridal couple stood under a canopy of illies of the valley, asparagus vines and ferns. An elaborate musical programme was rendered by the orchestra and the choir of St. Bartholomew's Church. After an hour's reception, a buffet breakfast was served. There were about five hundred guests. VICTORIA, (B. C.,) Dec. 12.—(Special Dispatch.) Despite a resolution unanimously passed at the meeting of the Sealers' Association, just previous to the London sale of skins, not to send schooners out until August, 1896, most, if not all, schooners will go out as usual. The sealing captains have been on the west coast for several days en-gaging Indian crews, and vessels that intend operating on the coast will start out early next year. All sealers claim the coast cruise is unprofitable and that but one schooner made expenses last year, but nevertheless they will try it serain.

the weather in the spring is very stormy and little sealing can be done. By the time the weather improves, the sealers have to come home on account of the Paris regulations. Another reason is that the white men who man the chooners are paid wages, no matter ow many seals are taken. Despite all this, schooners are being put in read-iness to go out. The schooners which go to the Japan coast with the Indian will start earlier than usual, so nuch time is lost on the west coast where Indians are obtained. Part of the fleet will start next week and the rest will leave shortly after Christmas. In the past schooners for Japan have not left Victoria until the new year, but they found they had very little time to refit the schooners after the trip across the Pacific.

The boat-steerers and pullers have succeeded in getting a raise in wages. Last year they got 50 cents'a skin.while this year they will get from 65 to 75 cents. All the hunters get one-fifth of

The testimony of C. D. Harson, which the latter gave at the first trial, was read and admitted. It was to the effect that the witness had seen Howell receipt for the box of counterfeit money that had been marked by Detective Harris, and had seen Howell give it to Jones. This testimony, the government claims, is fase, and this afternion the grand jury which was instructed to investigate Harson's evidence, prepared an indicment charging him with perjury. The United States grand jury voted at it session today to indict C. D. Harson on a charge of perjury. Harson's one of the most important witnesse for the defense in the Howell base. In his testimony he claimed to have seen Matt Jones with the box of iountarfeit money, which was marked by Sicret Service Agent Harris, and which was distributed by Howell. Mak Jones appeared before the jury and tenied that he had received the lecoy box, and John Curry swore that Harsin had confessed to him that his estimony was false, and was to be baid for by Howell. Upon this evidence the vote of indictment was taken. The isdictment will be filed at the next session of the jury.

The Soquel, San Andreas and Soquel Augmentation ranches are sought to be recovered by the heirs of Martina Jastro Despaux. The land is located at Capitolo, Soquel, Highland and Wright's, and extends into Santa Clara at Capitolo, Soquel, Highland and Wright's, and extends into Santa Claracounty. On the land are churches, schoolhouses, railroads, wharves and big ranches, some of which have been in possession of the present owners for over thirty years.

The story of the claimants reads more like a romance than anything else, and the first chapter in litigation began today when Elizabeth Peck, a grand-daughter of Mrs. Despaux, was appointed administratirk of the latter's estate. Mrs. Despaux died some five years ago, so that letters of administration had to be taken out by tomorrow, at least, or the petitioner would have been barred by the statute of limitation. Mrs. Despaux was the was the daughter of Joaquin Castro, a physician and surgeon in the Mexican army, who was given a Spanish grant to the San Andreas ranch. Later his daughter was granted by the Mexican government the Soquel and Soquel Augmentation ranches.

In 1850 Despaux, who was a French adventurer, was shipwrecked near Soquel and taken to the home of the deceased. She had already been married twice, first to Simon Cotta and then to Michael Lodge. Despaux was a young man, while she was advanced in years. She nursed him back to health and strength and fell in love with him, the result being that they were married in San Juan by Father Antonio Auser. In 1850, the year of the marriage, she made an agreement with the children to let them have possion of the land if they would pay the taxes and keep squatters off. This agreement was in force until 1855, when she gave an absolute deed to the ranches to Archbishop Alemony and Fathers Ingolshe and Lilavares. Despaux now sought to abandon his wife by leaving on a ship, which was wrecked and he was forced to return to her.

Imagining that she had been wronged, she made arrangements to go to Mexico to her.

Imagining that she had been wronged, she made arrangements to go to Mexico to appeal to the government for protection under the treaty which that country had with the United States. Despaux was to take her to Mexico, but, instead, he took her aboard a ship bound for Honolulu. When that port was reached he obtained all of her money, leaving her penniless, and desorted her and was never heard of again. She sold the furniture she had brought along for housekeeping to obtain passage money for San Francisco. When she arrived at her home in Soquel, after her unlucky experience, she was hopelessly insane. A few days after her arrival a decoy letter was sent her from San Francisco, saying her husband longed to see her. Still loving the man who had so crueily deserted her, she went in response and the relatives heard nothing of her. She had disapp ared as completely as though the earth had swallowed her up, until relatives who happened to visit the Stockton Insane Asylum recognized her, although she was weak and wasting away. She had been committed from San Francisco without her friends having had any opportunity to go to her. The relatives at once had her released from the asylum.

In the meantime those who had been leased from the asylum.

In the meantime those who had been granted an absolute deed to the ranches granted an absolute deed to the ranches brought suit in ejectment against the children. After years of litigation, the case was decided in favor of the children with the exception of a one-initinterest, which was decided to belong to the plaintiffs, it being Mrs. Despaux share. The ground of action to depose the present holders of the land will be that, as Mrs. Despaux was insane, the agreement with the children and the absolute deed were null and void, therefore it follows that all subsequent deeds are of no force. The plaintiff says she can prove that her grandmother was insane as early as 1841. There are seven heirs to the estate. For some years preparations have been

There are seven heirs to the estate. For some years preparations have been under way toward beginning a suit involving much research among old deeds and the Mexicon archives.

J. O. Wanser, an attorney who is familiar with the title to the ranches, says that the defendants need not worry over the result of the litigation, as the Supreme Court has repeatedly deckared that the deed from Mrs. Despaux to the children was absolutely perfect.

clerks have been holding secret meetings for some days. One of the leaders said: "There are 20,000 stores in Chicago where clerks are employed.
Of that number only the big department stores and a few others close on Sunday, and in a great many of the stores clerks are required to work at least part of the day. We want it necessary."

(EZULAR ASSOCIATED FILES REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Two men were the only mourners at Woodlawn cemetery yesterday at the funeral services over the body of Alexander Collie, a man who a few years ago was known in every European capital. In the civil war he was a noted blockade-runner, who established headquarters at Wil-Fisher, this blockade king carried on a thriving trade in the contraband arti-cles of war and exported the cotton were about £40,000,000, equivalent to $200,000,000. Alexander Collie, the head of the house, who was held responsible for the failure, had to flee from England, and he was spirited away to the private yacht of a friend, in which he sailed to Barcelona, Spain. His flight from England caused an immense sensation, and though pursued by creditors and detectives, he successfully eluded them. From Spain he went direct to South America, and, in a few years, reappeared at the White Sulphur Springs as a traveling artist, George McNeil by name. He was there recognized by George Peterkin Grant, a wealthy Englishman, who owns a handsome estate at the Springs.

Grant kept Collie's secret, and he remained in that vicinity for several years. He afterward went to Richmond, where, owing to his knowledge of finances, he became associated with Col. H. C. Parsons, James G. Blaine, Gen. Butler and others in the Richmond and Allegheny Railroad.

Prosperous for a time, he projected other railroads, but misfortune seemed to follow him, and finally he became again embarrased, and, comparatively without means, came to this city. One ough he lived in comparative poverty in New York, his wife was living in luxury in Los Angeles. As Alexander Collie he was supposed to have been lost at sea. He evidently made some dispessive of some various information of lost at sea. He evidently made some disposition of some property in favor-if his wife and went to a life of obscurity and poverty alone. He was turned out of the Harlem Flat, where he lived several years ago, and went to live at the Colonial Hotel, on One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. There he was found by several friends, among them Richard Lamb, eldest son of Col. Lamb of Fort Fisher. These men experienced much difficulty in aiding him, on account of his pride.

BOSTON, Dec. 12.—The Standard bublish tomorrow a brief history of ifficulty that exists between 3 publish tomorrow a brief history of a difficulty that exists between Mrs. Helen M. Geugar, the temperance advocate o flafayette, Ind., and Mrs. Mariona Livermore, the well-known woman suffrage and temperance lecturer of this State. Mrs. Livermore has already secured the services of counsel and says she will certainly permit no statement reflecting on her character to bass unnoticed.

statement reflecting on her character to pass unnoticed.

The difficulty began this fall in the United States Circuit Court, when Mrs. Livermore was a witness in the suit brought against Congressman Elijah Morse by Mrs. Gougar. Mrs. Livermore testified that she knew Mrs. Gougar well and that she ccasionally used "harsh and abusive language."

Mrs. Livermore also said she had never been a member of the Prohibition party of this State.

A letter appeared in the last issue of the New York Voice, signed by Mrs. Gougar, which sharply took Mrs. Liv-of the New York Voice, signed by Mrs. Gougar, which sharply took Mrs. Livermore to task and sought to show that she did not speak the truth at the trial. Mrs. Gougar alleges that Mrs. Livermore supported the Prohibition nominee and quoted from the letter to John P. St. John for the purpose of showing that she left the Republican party and joined the Prohibitionists. Mrs. Gougar also denied other statements which Mrs. Livermore made at the trial.

Mrs. Livermore, when seen tonight, was very indignant and pronounced the letter in the Voice a tissue of misrepresentations. Mrs. Livermore has handed the entire matter over to her counsel.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 12.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The White Star officials decided to dispatch the Adriatic of their line to New York tonight with the steerage passengers of the Germanic, and those saloon passengers who may be desirous of taking passage in her. THE APACHE TROUBLES.

Caused by an Attempt to Arrest Marauding Band.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The War-Department has received a telegram from the commanding officer at Fort from the commanding officer at Fort Apache, Ariz., saying that the trouble at Cibique occurred out of an attempt by Sheriff Thompson of Globe, Ariz., with a posse, to enter the Indian reservation to arrest the Indians who attempted to take the stores from the ranches whose occupants were absent. The Indians are said to have been caught in the act, but had taken nothing, having been discovered too soon. The inhabitants are much excited and are gathered at Newton's store at Canyon Creek. A man named Boise killed an Indian, whose body was found in the vicinity. He and two others gave themselves up to Lieut. Fenton and are now on the way to Globe, Ariz.

KEEPING THE "SCARE" DARK.
PHOENIX, (Ariz.) Dec. 12.—The directors of the Chamber of Commerce this evening passed a resolution deprecating the forwarding of any news from Phoenix concerning the Indian outbreaks, on the ground that immigration might thereby be prevented. In a New York paper recently appeared a note that the Apaches were ravaging the vicinity of Phoenix, whereas the Merrill murder occurred 160 miles from Arizona's capital. KEEPING THE "SCARE" DARK.

THE STILLWELL MURDER.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

BOWLINK GREEN (Mo.,) Dec. 12.—

The trial of Dr. J. C. Hearne for the murder of Amos J. Stillwell was resumed here today.

Dr. W. L. Gleason of Hannibal, who was called to the stand yesterday afternoon by the State but who was prevented from testifying by the adjournment of court, was examined at length today. His testimony was of the greatest importance. The witness, who was called to the scene of the crime immediately after it was committed, brought out the fact that Amos J. Stillwell died instantly from a blow from an ax, and that the body had been moved after death.

W. S. Teague, a florist of Hannibal, the next witness, described the finding of the body. His testimony agreed in the main with that of Dr. Gleason, and tends to prove that the man was lying down when struck. The State is trying to prove that Stillwell's body was moved after death, to give rise to the bellef that he was raising up in bed to attack the alleged burgiar who, Mrs.

moved after death, to give rise to the belief that he was raising up in bed to attack the alleged burgiar who, Mrs. Hearne, said, committed the deed.

Lizzle Julius, cook at the Stillwell residence, and other witnesses, told of the excitement after the murder was committed. Lizzle identified the ax which, she said, was in the woodshed at 5 o'clock on the day of the murder.

The sensation of the afternoon was the testimony of Mrs. Dr. Gleason, whose husband was on the stand earlier. She told of being awakened on the night of the murder. Witness dressed herself and went to the Stillwell residence, arriving there about 2 o'clock, and the first person-she met was Dr. Hearne. She remarked: "Why Doctor, how did you get here before I did, when I live so close?" He replied that he had not been to bed and then related about being at the Munger party, and proceeding with Mr. and Mrs. Stillwell down Fifth avenue, when they left the party, and then went on to his office, as was his custom, to fix the first in the furnace.

The witness stated that Dr. Hearne remained at the Stillwell house all night and that he was almost continually at the side of Mrs. Stillwell; that the widow said to him: "Don't leave me." Witness said that Dr. Hearne was a frequent visitor to the house before the murder.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Capt. One of the magazines was flooded, but the fire was extinguished without causing any damage.

Progress in Collections.

The Committee of Thirty of La Flesta met yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce and listened to the report of the Executive Committee. The work of preparation is now well under way, although the efforts of the committee have been devoted, thus far, chiefly to the securide of subscriptions to pay the expense of next year's affair.

The total amount subscribed thus far is a little short of $13,000, which is about half the total sum that it is proposed to raise. A very encouraging feature of the work thus far is that the subscriptions to date show a gain of more than $2000 over the amount received from the same sources last year. CARBOLL IS DEAD.

Charge of Murder. Tom Carroll, the victim of Wednesday evening's shooting, died in the Receiving Hospital at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At the request of his family the body was turned over to Undertakers Cussen & Cunningham, where the inquest will be held today. Louis J. Harman, the murderer accents the J. Harman, the murderer, accepts the consequences of his crime indifferently, but has little to say. The open knife picked up where Carroll fell will no doubt, play an important part in estab-lishing Harman's defense, but some of the officers doubt whether the knife was Carroll's. There is a suspicion that some friend of Harman's placed it there so as to make it apear that Carroll intended to use it, and that Harman shot in self-defnese. Harman will probably be arraigned for preliminary examination this afternoon.

DEATH OF ALLEN G. THURMAN.

Allen G. Thurman, whose death occurred yesterday, was a man of unique personality and of acknowledged ability when in his prime. His extreme age and growing infirmities had of late years disqualified him for participation in active political life, yet he was fre quently consulted on affairs of current importance, and his opinions highly valued by his political con-

Mr. Thurman achieved his greatest distinction during his services as a United States Senator, from 1869 to 1881. The important national legislation of that period bears the impress of his power and influence. He was one of the ablest of debaters among his colleagues, and bore an unquestioned reputation for fairness and consideration in his treatment of oppo

With his retirement from the Senate Mr. Thurman's public career practically closed, although he was regarded as an available candidate for high prefer ment, and in 1888 was nominated for Vice-President on the ticket with Mr.

In a purely political sense, Mr. Thurdeath cannot properly be regarded as a great present loss to his party, for he had ceased, some years ago, to be an active force in its councils. But he enjoyed, in a remarkable degree, up to the time of his death, the admiration of his party associates. By them, and not by them alone, his death will be sincerely mourned throughout the land.

WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

The Times' Washington letter notes the fact that Gov. McKinley's friends have opened headquarters at the national capital, and that men of acknowledged integrity and prominence are in charge of the same. All this is perhaps well enough, in its way. The political methods of the day have made the success or failure of candidates dependent in no small degree upon the "management" which they receive prior to and during the sessions of the nominating convention. The friends of Gov. McKinley, in promoting his cause by all honorable means, are merely conforming to a well-established cus

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

LOS ANGELES THEATER. Herr mann, the master of mystery, the man whose facile fingers have fooled mil-lions of people the world over, opened his engagement at the Los Angeles Theater last night to a big house, and, though the audience was at times inclined to be restive because of waits between times that seemed almost interminable, it was highly entertained. between times that seemed almost interminable, it was highly entertained. Herrmann is, without question, the cleverest man with his hands that ever befuddled the eyesight of the public. His palming is simply wonderful—animate and inanimate objects appear and disappear, the thing that was plainly before your eyes one moment vanishes the next, only to reappear in the most mysterious way again from the end of the magician's toes, from the tips of his fingers, from beneath the collar of an assistant, or elsewhere, as the prestidigitator elects. The performance opens with some immensely clever card tricks, tricks in which Herrmann has no equal on earth. His long, supple fingers make the bits of pasteboard seem instinct with life and he manages to keep the eyes of his auditors so befooled and bewitched that one loses confidence in his capacity to see straight.

One of his new illusions is called Trilby. It consists in the apparent hyp-Upon this issue, chiefly, the political campaign of 1896 will be fought. The people demand Gov. McKinley for their leader. to keep the eyes of his auditors so befooled and bewitched that one loses confidence in his capacity to see straight.

One of his new illusions is called Trilby. It consists in the apparent hypnotism of his charming wife, who reclines at full length on a plain deal board laid across the backs of two chairs. The chairs are removed and the lady lies in apparently deep sleep with the board resting on plain, ordinary atmosphere. Of course there is a trick in it, but Herrmann is too clever to let one guess how it is done. The Asiatic trunk mystery consists in enclosing a short young woman in a sack, which is tied up. She is then locked and strapped within a trunk which is enclosed in a second trunk. A taller girl and the trunks disappear for teg seconds on an elevated platform enclosed by curtains. When the curtains, are again opened the short girl is standing on the platform and the tall one is inside the two trunks, tied up in the sack.
The artist's dream is equally mystifying. A large picture is placed upon a vertical easel and a curtain is drawn before it. When the curtain is pulled back a very much alive young woman is seen sitting in a swing, and the pleture has disappeared. She descends and goes through a bit of pantomime with the artist and joins him in a dance; reascending to her swing, the curtains are drawn and again opened, when the picture is again in its place and the girl has disappeared.

Mme. Herrmann presents some wonderfully beautiful spectacular dances which are performed on a stage lighted only by three powerful lime lights, thrown directly on the figure. The lady is clad in the usual voluminous garb of the skirt dancer, and goes through some most brilliant evolutions, which are made still more gorgeously attractive by colored lights.

The spray of life consists of a number of living pletures, the last one being that of a sprite disporting in prismatically lighted spray.

The performance concludes with a round of Herrmann's tricks, some of which are old but all of which

COMING ATTRACTIONS. A splendid attraction is announced for the amusement of theater-goers, and it is safe to predict that no lover of fun and melody will miss the rare treat, for De Wolf Hopper, that well-known and popular comedian, assisted by the members of his excellent organization, will, during the next week, present for the first ing the next week, present for the first time in this city the two reigning comic opera successes, "Wang" and "Dr. Syntax." These pretty, tuneful operas are too well and favorably known to need extended notice, as each enjoyed a series of brilliantly successful engage-ments at the Broadway Theater, New York city, and at the close of each run at that famous playhouse, was presented to large and enthusiastic audiences in all the large cities.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES. Oxnard's Organ Again.

CHINO, Dec. 12.—(To the Editor of The Times:) In the course of another labored argument in defense of Mr. Oxnard, who states that beet sugar cannot be profitably manufactured in this section without a bounty, the Los

"In this connection we may call attention to the fact that the Louisians farmers only got $2.50 a ton for their cane, and they are satisfied with a profit of about $15 an acre."

One is used when they want to show that there is no money in manufacturing beet-sugar without a bounty. Then they think $15 an acre profit is sufficient for a man. The other argument is used when they are trying to dispose of some of their surplus land. In this case the situation is entirely changed, and incomes of six to eight times that amount are promised.

PECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Whatever may be individual preferences as to who shall receive the Republican Presdential nomination, no one can fail to admile the manly, dignified and wise campaign now being made in behalf of Gov. McKinley of Ohlo. Headquarters have just been opened in Washington, and the character of the men in charge are of the very best. State Librarian Joseph P. Smith of Ohio, who has for years been Gov. McKinley's intimat friend, has practically the charge of the Washington headquarters, and he is an as it is possible for an organizer to be and yet his record in that line has been a good one. National Committeeman a good one. National Committeeman Hahn, Gen. W. M. Osborne of Boston, Mark Hanna of Cleveland and Powell Clayton of Arkansas are among thos actively at work. Of these, the latter is the nearest approach to what is commonly termed a practical politician, while all are men who wield a powerful influence. Gov. McKinley's campaign bears a strong resemblance to his own political history. He came suddenly into national fame and it was confidently predicted that he was a man of the hour only and would disappear as had others who were made prominent by reason of measures bearing their names. Instead of this, it was demonstrated that his leading characteristic was not pyrotechnic brilactively at work. Of these, the latter was demonstrated that his leading characteristic was not pyrotechnic brilliancy, but safe, sagacious, conservative statesmanship, as has been shown by the remarkably even tenor of his two successive administrations as Governor of Ohio. Thorough wisdom in the handling of the troublesome coalmining question in the Hocking Valley when Governor, and in dealing with troubles of the same nature, and of even greater magnitude, Gov. McKinley has succeeded in quelling all disturbances without the firing of a gun. It was asserted in some quarrest that his present campaign started with a flourish of trumpets and a spontaneity throughout the country that threatened an early dissolution on account of its being so premature. And there was very great danger, as confidently expedienced that it would lose it. threatened an early dissolution on account of its being so premature. And there was very great danger, as confidently predicted, that it would lose its force before the convention. Like his administration, it has now settled down to a normal condition, and reports from different sections of the country show that his supporters are growing in numbers and strength daily. Meanwhile, Gov. McKinley remains in Columbus, taking no open part in his canvass, even by words, and leaving the matter in the hands of men who will use only those methods compatible with the dignity of the position sought

The same old wall comes up from the Public Printing Office, only it is a little more pronounced and prolonged than before. That there will in the not far distant future be a calamity by side of which the accident at the old Ford Theater will pale into insignificance, is admitted by all who are conversant with the facts. Seven years ago, the grand jury condemned the building now being used for the Public Printing Office and men were afraid to work in it. Today the government engineers are trying to prop up the floors, and thus prevent the bending girders from breaking. It is only a question of a short time when it will fall, and how many of the 1400 employees will be buried in the debris is a question that makes the blood run cold when it is thought of. There would have been a new government Printing Office building before this had not Gen. Mahone owned a tract of land he wanted to sell for the site and the ing Office building before this had not Gen. Mahone owned a tract of land he wanted to sell for the site, and the question of the building itself was lost in the mazes of the fight as to that particular location. Now, Gen. Mahone is dead, the property has been sold and unless another similar question arises. dead, the property has been sold and unless another similar question arises, it is probable that the present Congress will take action. If not, the chances are very favorable for the building felling, as did Ford's Theater, and if it does, there will be much greater loss of life. The grand jury demands a new building, the Public Printer is fighting building, the Public Printer is fighting hard to obtain an appropriation for one, and no one appears to oppose it, but that same state of affairs has existed for four successive Congresses and nothing has been done.

Congressman Bowers of Californi if he does not leave his impress upo the statutes of the United States, certainly will not be his fault. Up to date he has introduced bills to establish a postal savings bank department; to repeal all laws authorizing the issue and sale of United States bonds; establishing a uniform system of naturalization; prohibiting officers or employes of national banks from holding any office in a savings bank; and prohibiting the appointment of aliens to offices or places of trust or profit under the government of the United States. Which one of these he will put his work in upon, has not been determined, and it usually requires a Congressman's individual time and attention to engineer one bill making radical changes without soattering his efforts over too many. The measure to establish a postal savings bank, which is not new, has a number of friends among the members, but will meet with considerable opposition as increasing the expense of a department that has never been self-supporting.

Upon the naturalization question, Representative Grove L. Johnson of California has introduced a bill amending the naturalization laws so that no alien shall become a citizen who has not for five years preceding the time application is made been a resident of the United States, and who cannot read, write and speak the English language. date he has introduced bills to estab-lish a postal savings bank department

It having been several days since President Cleveland returned from a President Cleveland returned from a squirrel-hunting expedition, during which time he had to labor too hard upon his message, he could not remain in Washington during the first two weeks of Congress, it being necessary for him to go to the North Carolina coast, duck hunting. In this sport he has met with his usual success, and has maintained the high reputation he has earned as a sportsman. He is a fine shot, and an expert angler, two qualities that probably are not possessed to so marked a degree by the ruler of any other civilized nation on earth. He has been known to kill twenty squirrels without missing a shot and the ball invariably penetrating the heads of the main.

Probably the most important measure introduced as yet is the bill presented by Senator Squire of Washington appropriating $87,000,000 for coast defenses, to be constructed within the next twelve years. New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco, and New Orleans will have the largest proportion of the funds, while a considerable amount is to be expended on Puget Sound. This bill meets the full approval of the War Department officers, and of Gen. Miles. Very strong efforts will be made to pass it, but it will also encounter determined opposition. This will come from some who have always been in favor of the plan of defending the sea-coasts, but who are more strongly in favor of the completion of the Nicaragua. Canal. It is not believed that the sea-coast defenses that cost $87,000,000 can be passed by the same Congress that will have to appropriate or guarantes $150,000,000 for the Nicaragua Canal. Both are stupendous undertakings, and the passage of one would necessitate postponement of the other. Senator Squire's bill has therefore not been greeted with cheers by many who have always insisted upon the construction of coast defenses, because they deem the Nicaragua Canal as of equal benefit in case of war by giving a short cut between the oceans, and of the utmost importance to commerce in the time of peace, while the coast defenses would entail large expenses to maintain them without being of any commercial importance.

Alaska will receive much more attention during the present session of Congress than ever before. There will be no opposition to the measure to give it a civil government, and the boundary question will be vigorously discussed, although that matter is scarcely in shape for any direct legislation, and will not be until after the commission has acted and the final reports been made. Seldom has any matter created more interest than the Alaskan boundary question, and the people have made up their minds that the United States shall insist upon every possible made up their minus that the shall insist upon every possible right there, a sentiment that has permeated Congress.

"Dave" Brown of Montana has become famous in Washington for his "staying" qualities. Commissioned five times as collector of customs, and his nomination held up each time by the Senate, he held right on to the office, although drawing no salary for three years. He has enough of this world's goods to live without an office, and has held the collectorship for the honor that there was in it, and also with a pleasure in keeping the whole United States Senate at bay.

George A. Knight of San Francisco, the well-known lawyer, is in the city on private business, but is not so engaged that he cannot stop to say a good word for the Pacific Coast. Visitors from the far West, travelling men returning from that section, Senators and Representatives, all unite in saying that times are improving all the way from Mexico to British Columbia, and especially so as important cold dispared senated and consecually so as important cold dispared senated as a consecual senated se may from Mexico to British Columbia, and especially so as important gold dis-coveries in California, Colorado and Idaho have brought an influx of new people, and attracted a good deal of Eastern capital.

The Rules Committee de-cided to have the matter settled by the convention. It was claimed that this body of men should come under the head of the Typographical Union or the Machinists' Union. There is to be a conference of the various delegates interested in these matters tonight, and decision was deferred until after that time.

President McBride introduced Mrs. Mary Burt, president of the Women's Christion Temperance Union of New York. She said she came to bring the greetings of Miss Frances Willard, who, through the delegation, took the members of the convention by the hand in kindly sympathy. The Federation of Labor and the Women's Christian Temperance Union had many purposes in common, and through well-directed efforts of the federation this country would take first rank in the industrial world. Mrs. Burt spoke of the result of liquor among the workingmen, and said the federation should seriously consider it.

E. J. Cowey, the English representative of the Miners' Union, was then called to the platform. He said he had good news for the people, and that was that the big strike of ship-builders in Scotland had at last been settled and the capitalists had falled. The terms are an increase of wages now and again in February. Cowey said be believed in unionism, and because of it he was here. In closing he said: "I hope the time will come when the English-speaking people shall become united on one common ground against our enemy, capital." Church Unity and Christian Unity.

Church Unity and Christian Unity.

(Harper's Weekly:) There has been so much sincerity in the movement for what is called Christian union; and such a fine manifestation of wide and noble charity, using the word charity in its best sense as meaning the love and esteem of others, that it seems almost unkind to say that the cause has not advanced this year. And yet this is not only the fact, but it is doubtful, from what has been said by prominent ecclesiastics and by important ecclesiastical bodies, if the cause can be said to have made any advance at all. Whether this is to be keenly regretted or not depends altogether upon the whole state of the church and of the Christian world.

The good people who have been engaged in the work for union are perhaps not doing the best that can be done for their religion; it may be that they are wasting effort and strength, and that no human being is made much nobler or purer for their earnest, honest, prayerful toll. What they have been striving for is not Christian, but church union, and in that they have failed, because they have undertaken one of the most difficult of tasks—the task of making men believe and confess that the organizations that they and their forebears have planned and perfected, and then defended and even fought for, are, after all, not so good for the accomplishment of their object as some other organization, the work of some other men. Such a confession is an acknowledgment not only of the weakness of him who makes it, but of the folly or blindness of those who have gone before him, in whose clearness of vision and sound judgment the man of this generation has faith that he is far from reposing in the wisdom of his contemporaries. So it is not to be wondered at that the Pope announces that he cannot consent to a union of his church with that of England unless his primacy is acknowledged and his rule submitted to. Nor is it strange that the Archbishop of Canterbury should declare that in his mind a condition precedent to union is the acceptance of the creed and organization of the establishment over which he presides. On this side of the water, too, it seems that the Episcopal church is not willing to surrender its distinguished features. Doubtless all these are right, for the preservation of their different forms of worship of their distinctive ceremonies, and of their social customs is essential to the broad inclusiveness of church life in English-speaking countries. We are not all fitted to be Episcopalians, nor would we all be content with the simplicity of Methodism.

THE HOLIDAY EVIL.

THE HOLIDAY EVIL.

Christian Shoppers Appealed to to Reform an Inhuman Practice.

In an editorial article upon "An Evil of the Holidays," Edward W. Bok, in December Ladies' Home Journal, enters vigorous protest against the long hours of most exhausting, debilitating work imposed upon young girls who earn their own livelihood by clerking in stores—those making specialties of goods to attract holiday shoppers. Mr. Bok contends that nine hours of duty by day, frequently supplemented by still more exhausting toil in the store of evening, when suffering from the day's fatigue, is inhuman, and a practice that must result in most injurious effects upon our future womanhood.

"Let any woman not accustomed to standing try the experiment of remaining on her feet for nine hours, for, even where resting facilities are provided these girls, their duties call for a standing posture during the greater part of their working hours. The strain of the position is a fearful one in itself. No account need even be taken that during all these hours every faculty possessed by these girls must be on the alert. And during the holiday season the strain is tenfold upon them during daylight hours. The constant stream of purchasers gives them not a moment of leisure from the time they reach their counters in the morning until nightfall—in thousands of cases not even time for lunch can be taken." Mr. Bok asserts that some merchants have proven that business, even in holiday times, can be successfully and satisfactorily conducted without keeping their stores open in the evenings, and that all others would find it expedient to close at 6 o'clock if women shoppers would refuse to patronize those who are destroying the health of their girl clerks by adding evening work to their taxing daily tasks, even during the holiday season. Mr. Bok appeals to women to take such a stand. "Such a reform is human." he writes. "therefore it should appeal to women."

The pickets have been thrown out in the jurors' mileage war, and now it remains to be seen whether the ruling of the Superior Judge or of the Attorney-General holds good as to the recompense to be given those who act as public servants under compulsion, and sometimes at an actual loss of money as well as time. Children Gambol on the Bellevue

While the people of the northwest sec tion of the city appreciate the benefits of the Bellevue avenue electric road, they find that the road is a menace to their children. The electric tracks appear to have a strange fascination for the youngsters along Bellevue avenue, and the roadbed seems to be their favorite playground. Already two children, each the son of a policeman, have been struck by the cars. One of these, the child of Officer Pawling, was quite seriously hurt, and the little fellow's re-covery is despaired of. The motormen on the Bellevue-avenue line are frequently compelled to stop the motormen of the Benevel-avenue line are frequently compelled to stop their cars in order to lift children off the track, and this danger and annoyance has become so great that Superintendent Larrabee of the Pasadena and Pacific electric road has addressed a letter to Chief of Police Glass, asking him whether he can not help to abate the nuisance. He suggests that a few arrests might have a salutary effect.

Mr. Larrabee says a favorite pastime of children near a certain bridge on the line is to get under the bridge and stick fheir heads up between the ties. The result of this will be the decapitation of some youngsters one of these days unless the practice is stopped.

Chief Glass warns all parents living along the line of the road to keep their children off the tracks. He says if any arrests are made they will be of careless parents and not of children.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

One of the smartest luncheons of the season was given yesterday by Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff, Jr., at her pretty home on South Flower street. The table decorations were exceptionally beautiful, a thousand carnations being used in the center-piece, which was in the form of a huge sunburst, the points alternating in pink and white carnations, reaching to the edge of the round table, and curving to the right to leave space for the covers. The carnations breathed their fragrance from beneath feathery sprays of maidenhair ferns, and over all was shed a soft light from the pink-shaded Dreaden candelabra. At each place was overturned a daintilly-decorated flower vase, inscribed with the name of the guest, and overflowing with violets. The frozen egg-nogs was served in pink-tinted crepe carnations, the finger-bowls were nearly filled with purple violets, and the pink-shaded chandeller above the table was wreathed with smilax, from which hung loops of broad pink satin ribbons. The menu was perfect, and served as it was, in beautiful Dresden china, made a feast for the eye as well as the palate. Mrs. Holterhoff was very lovely in a gown of cerise crepon, with garniture of jet and black chiffon. The guests were Mmes. T. D. Stimson, C. C. Carpenter, Albert M. Stephens, Alfred Solano, Gilbert E. Overton, Jefferson Chandler, James Slauson, G. Wiley Wells and Henry T. Lee.

The Misses Fairchild entertained delightfully at luncheon yesterday, at their home on Burlington avenue, in honor of Miss Jevene. The table was charmingly decorated with white carnations and asparagus plumosus, arranged in a large cut-glass bowl in the center, resting upon a round mirror. Broad green satin ribbon, outlined with ferns, was effectively arranged at diagonally opposite corners, and at each cover was a cluster of the carnations and ferns tied with green satin ribbon, upon which was inscribed the name of the guest. At either end of the table were silver candelabra, with white and green shades. Those present were the Misses Jevne, Whar

There are five horses in the stable, Cock Robin, Addle, Matchless, Queenie and Perfection. The first four can be driven together in a four-in-hand or in spans in tandems. One end of the car is devoted to the horses. There are four water-tanks overhead for their use and each horse also has a padded stall, in which no amount of joiting short of a wreck can hurt him much.

The other end of the car is for the six men who attend to the stable, the six men who attend to the six men who attend to the following rigs: Four-in-hand, body-brake, Kensington, English tandem cart, coupe, Palo Alto cart and exercise wagon. The harness is kept in cabinets. The six berths for the men are single and when closed are entirely out of reach overhead. The door through which the rigs pass when taken out or put in is ten feet wide.

The roof of the car is of the omnibus style, thus allowing more than the ordinary room. Light is furnished with Pintsch gas burners and heat with a Baker steam heater. The car carries straight and combination air brakes, air signal and whistle and overhead and underneath steam couplers. There are two six-wheel trucks, the wheels being thirty-eight-inch Krupp steel, with double springs and outside bearings. The bearings are double, reinforced, and the platform furnished with Miller, Jenny & Thorley couplers and vestibule buffers. Between the tracks, about the middle of the car, are two "wells" for foder. The car is seventy-two feet, long and weighs 148,000 pounds.

The stable is entirely for the private use of the magician. The car was finished about six weeks ago by the Ohio Falls Car Company, at Jeffersonville, Ind., and is said to be the most complete of its kind in the United States.

MORE HYPNOTISM.

"Dend Easy" Subject Found for "Prof." Tyndall.

A few minutes before 11 o'clock yes-terday morning, Tyndall, the mind-reader, hypnotist and clairvoyant, ascended the steps leading to the private office of Chief Glass, and there awaited the result of his hypnotic power over the red-haired youth who made so mu fun for a small audience in Illinois Hall

Wednesday evening.

The young man had been ordered, by the hypnotist with the flowing locks and magnetic eye, to report at the po-lice station at 11 o'clock a.m., there to confess to Chief Glass the murder of Minnie Williams and Blanche Lamont, and incidentally to give himself up to Like a nice obliging person, the youth and incidentally to give himself up to justice.

Like a nice obliging person, the youth so instructed kept his engagement with the professor, and promptly at 11 o'clock dropped into Chief Glass's office, where Tyndall awaited his coming.

"Is this Chief Glass?" queried the youth with the ruby locks, of big Charley Moffatt, whose countenance, as he gazed on Tyndall's subject, indicated "that tired feeling."

"No," replied Moffatt.

Tyndall, however, persuaded the young man that Moffatt was not Moffatt, but Glass, and then, with confidence restored, the youth made the confession and asked to be locked up.

Moffatt refused the request, and, not to prolong the agony, Tyndall "released" the self-accused murderer, and at once the youth bolted for the door, and went down the street at a rapid pace.

He drew up at a famous saloon on South Main street, where a very large "schooner" can be had for 5 cents, and once inside, partook with evident satisfaction of the contents of a colossal beer glass. From thence he disappeared in "the madding crowd," and was lost to sight until called to the platform in Illinois Hall last evening, to again take part in the hypnotic tests given by Tyndall and Bell.

The exhibition given last evening did not vary from the performances of the preceding night. The red-haired person was again the star of the evening, and was manipulated by Tyndall at will, to the huge delight of the audience that watched his welrd antics with hilarious glee.

To demonstrate the reality of the trance into which his subject had been thrown, Tyndall pierced his (the subject's) cheek with a needle, without any indication of feeling on the part of the subject being manifested.

THROWING MONEY.

An advertising agent in close contact with all classes of business men tells the New York Times that during the hard times they were ready to accuse him of throwing their money away. Of late they have been positively delighted to see him and talk business with him. Money can be thrown away in good times as well as in bad. Much depends on the style of throw and the direction. Thrown by a masterhand and into a dense constituency, the advertiser's dollar comes back like a return ball. But even badly thrown it is apt to come back.—(Philadelphia Record.

ADAMS-STREET WAR.

Neither Side Shows a Disposition to Retreat.

The war between property-owners on West Adams street is in statu. quo. Mr. Walker's flats are up and nearing completion, and Mr. Hooker's blackboard fence stands adjacent to it, three feet and one inch distant, and this is made the side of a shed 120 feet long to be utilized for storing horse feed and other things of the kind. No advancement is made in the negotiations for a settlement. The insurance on Mr. Walker's unfairished building has been cancelled by the insurance agents on account of the extra risk caused by the adjacent fence and shed, leaving the flats unprotected save for the night watchmen standing guard over it.

The publication in The Times of the facts regarding the intrusion of the facts regarding the intrusion of the block into a row of fashlonable mansions, has resulted in attracting great numbers of visitors to the scene, and all look upon the matter with a great deal of interest speculating on the outcome.

TEST SUIT FILED IN THE MILE-

Monday—Case Against Murphy Dismissed.

Mayne Asks to Be Released on Ball Coroner Campbell is Ar-raigned—A Hung Jury.

Putation of Crooked Work—A Wordy Altereation With the Street Superintendent.

Some excitement was created in the City Hall yesterday by a peculiar rumor set afloat by an inspector of the street department, regarding President Teed of the City Council. The annual report of Superintendent of Schools Foshay has been filed, containing statistics in relation to the public schools of the city. Several petitions were of the city. Several petitions were filed yesterday having to do with street improvement work.

Not many trials were in progress yesterday at the Courthouse, and the Supervisors were taking a needed outing after their tribulations of the day before. Mayne filed affidavits begging for release on ball. The case against W. J. Murphy for subornation of per-jury was dismissed. The test suit on the mileage question was filed by H. E. Storrs, foreman of the grand jury.

AT THE CITY HALL.

THE WRATH OF TEED.

The President of the Council R. sents a Rather Peculiar Charge.

Freeman G. Teed is mad.

Not insane—but thoroughly indignant.

From the grown of head to the tips of his parent leathers, the president of the City Council is filled with wrath—double distilled and overflowing wrath.

Day before vesterday Teed wended way, as usual, at the noon hour, to the dining rooms of the Jonathan Club, legal luminaries and other kind where legal luminaries and other kind of lights, partake of assorted refreshments—the staff of life, and such.

At a table near the seat of the Council's president, was quartered Maj. Owen, or Judge Owen, as he is more often styled. Said the Judge to Teed, "Teed, you should come up in my courtroom, and intervene in a sult that's going on there. There's a chance for you to get a fine team of h ries," "Don't understand what you mean," replied Teed in his blunt way. "Wish you'd explain."

Treed in his blunt way. "Wish you'd explain."
"Certainly," said the genial Judge.
"Perhaps you knew that the brother of Greet Superintendent Howard, was trying to replevin a team of horses from a man named Welch, who has laid claim to the animals. This brother of the Street Superintendent has had a number of the street department employees on the stand testifying that at different times they have heard Welch say that the horses were Howard's property. Among these witnesses was an inspector named Liversidge. He said that Welch in his hearing, declared the animals were the property of — Then he stopped in his testimony without mentioning any name. Judge Guthrie, Welch's attorney, insisted on knowing the person whose name Liversidge was so reluction to reveal. "Who was the person," said Judge Guthrie, and to the surprise of every one in the courtroom, the inspector replied, "President Teed of the City Council!" So," concluded Judge Owen, "there's a chance for you to get a fine team on the strength of this testimony."

That testimony."

Teed heard this story in silence, but to say that he was indignant at having his name coupled with such an unsavory transaction as the one which was aired in the Police Court, in connection with this case, would be stating the case very mildly indeed.

As soon as possible Teed sought the office of the Street Superintendent, and to the head of the street department.

As soon as possible Teed sought the office of the Street Superintendent, and to the head of the street department he unbosomed himself, with words which well regulated lexicoms are said not to define. Teed denounced the inspector as a malicious liar, and scoundrel generally, and gave his opinion in forceful terms of a department that had fathered so many scandals as the street department. Teed had evidently been thinking about several things for some time, and yesterday improved the opportunity to give Street Superintendent Howard two or three sections of his mind. Howard attempted to defend himself and his department, but the irate Councilman refused to listen to explanations of any sort.

To a Times reporter Teed talked freely of the affair, denouncing the testimony of Liversidge as a preposterous attempt of a rotten set of officials to divert, if possible, attention from themselves and their crooked work. Teed declares that he does not and has not for years owned a horse of any kind, directly or indirectly; that he does not know Welch, nor has he ever met him. Street Superintendent, Howard afected a sublime indifference to the whole affair, when spoken to by a Times reporter. He believed he had heard of some such testimony as that complained of by Mr. Teed, but he was not personally interested in the affair. He regretted that Mr. Teed should so far forget himself as to use language unbecoming a gentleman, but that he (Howard) could not help it.

"Of course, as your brother has been awarded the team in question, it is true that he has been drawing pay for the past year, for the team's services while employed at the time, in your department?"

"It would seem so," coldly replied the Street Superintendent."

while employed at the time, in your department?"

"It would seem so," coldly replied the Street Superintendent.

"That is a rather disreputable proceeding, is it not?"

"Well," said Howard, "I should not have permitted it if I had known it, of course,"

"Then you will, of course, discharge the man who was guilty of hoodwinking you, and making a tool of your department, who in this case happens to be your brother?"

"Oh no—no." hastily replied the Street Superintendent. "He is a capable man, and I should not think of discharging him. Oh, no."

Around the City Hall the opinion is freely expressed that the Street Superintendent has connived with his brother in this and other matters, which, to say the least, has not, in their operation, reflected credit on the department. Meanwhile Col. Teed nurses his wrath and awaits the appearance of Leversidge, who will doubless be treated to a pleasant little seance when the president of the Council has the opportunity to converse with him.

PROPERTY-OWNERS "KICK."

An Old Point of Dispute Revived in a Petition to the Council.

A question of dispute between certain property-owners on Maple avenue and the Street Superintendent, which has been brought before the City Council in the past, will be revived again, as the said property-owners yesterday filed with the City Clerk the following the said property-owners yesterday filed with the City Clerk the following petition, which explains the ground taken in the petition in the matter:

"We, the undersigned property-owners on Maple avenue, between Washington and Jefferson streets, hereby protest against the manifest unfair and unequal assessment of property on that street for the purpose of sewering. We think that there should be some discrimination between lots that have short frontage as against those that have long frontage and shallow depth; but we do not admit there should be the great discrimination made by the Street Superintendent's office in levying this assessment. We think the greater justice to property-owners will be reached by a square-foot assessment, and we most carnestly petition your honorable body to order a reassessment of said street, taking also into consideration the injustice of the present levy for private connections which we believe the Street Superintendent has no legal right to make. These objections are made without walving any legal rights or admitting the validity of the abovementioned assessment, or in any way assenting thereto."

Mr. Bostwick, the assessment clerk in the Street Superintendent's office, says, in relation to this petition, that it is practically impossible to make the assessment at so much a square foot, on this street, owing to the peculiar dimensions of the preperty affected. This same point has been decided before by the Council and adversely to the petitioners.

WORK OF THE WILSHIRES.

Street Improvements Petitioned for Near the City Limits. That part of the city near the south-western limits is being subjected to many improvements, and no portion more so than that owned by the Wil-shire brothers, who recently dedicated to the city a large tract of land for park purposes. The following petition for permission to perform street im-park purposes. The following petition for permission to perform street improvement work was yesterday filed by the Wilshires with the City Clerk: "We, the undersigned, owning property fronting or aligning on West Seventh street between Park View avenue and the city limits, and liable to be assessed for the improvement of the same, hereby petition you for permission to sewer, grade and gravel said street and to construct a cement curb and a cement sidewalk six feet in width on the north side of said street between said points, and also on the south side of said street from Park View avenue to Rampart street, and to construct a redwood curb, two by twelve inches, on the south side of said street from Rampart street to Hoover street by private contract, all of said work to be done according to your specifications for such work and subject to the inspection and final acceptance of the Street Superintendent of said city. We desire to put in a temporary redwood curb, for the reason that a fill will be necessary between said points, and a cement curb would not be substantial until said fill has settled, and when said fill is so settled, we agree to construct a cement curb and cement sidewalk on said street between shid points."

Superintendent Foshay's Report. The annual report of Superintendent of Schools Foshay has been filed with the Council. The report contains nothing more than statistics relating to the condition of the schoolrooms, the number of teachers employed, the salaries paid them, and the number of pupils in at-tendance upon the schools during the City Hall Notes.

The Sewer Committee yesterday prepared a report, recommending that P. M. Daroy be awarded the contract to sewer Courthouse street from Grand avenue to a point 140 feet west of the west line of Olive street, at 95% cents elimed foot west line of Olive street, at 35½ cents a lineal foot.

H. P. Earle, clerk of the Health Office, is preparing a list of physicians in Los Angeles, who are properly registered at the office, which will be forwarded to the secretary of the State Board of Health. It is possible that some practicing physicians will be found who do not possess diplomas and are not properly registered.

In the bids for a public market site, which the Council will readvertise for, those who offer land to the city for this purpose will be asked to give the number of square feet contained in the pieces of land that may be offered and the price asked. This will make the third time that bids have been advertised for.

pended upon his being out in the sunshine and fresh air, amid pleasant surroundings.

This was followed by an affidavit from Mayne himself, who swore that he was consumptive, and had several times been sent to a warmer climate for his health. He owned to having had hemorrhages in 1887, 1891 and 1892, but got on very well in California until November 25, the day efter his conviction, when he had another hemorrhage. He also expressed an opinion that his health would be greatly benefited by sunshine, stirring about in the open air, and congenial and cheerful surroundings.

The third affidavit was sworn to by three physicians, W. H. Smith, E. A. Bryant and H. B. B. Montgomery, who all attested that Mayne had great need of an outdoor life and gentle exercise. It remains to be seen whether Judge Smith will see the propriety of allowing a man who was sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentary, to seek the mild relaxations of gentle exercise amid sunshine and pleasant surroundings, while awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court.

A MODERN LOCHINVAR.

Norwalk recently rejoiced in the pos-ession of a citizen whose chief desire eemed to be to emulate the deeds of notorious bandit, Chris Evans, of the notorious bandit. Chris Evans, of whom he happened to be a namesake, as to the surname.

Evans put his foot through one of the commandments to the extent, not only of coveting his neighbor's wife, but of actually taking forcible possession of her and coolly-walking off with her in open daylight, under her husband's very nose.

A neighbor sympathized with the "poor crayen bridgerroom" and voiced "poor crayen bridgerroom" and voiced sion of her and coolly walking off with her in open daylight, under her husband's very nose.

A neighbor sympathized with the "poor, craven bridegroom" and voiced his sentiments so freely that the modern Lochinvar, instigated by the wrath of the "fair Ellen," who objected to being talked about, returned and effectually silenced the gossiper by burning his barn.

A sagacious and particularly energetic dog pinned the avenger, and he was arrested by Constable Holgate. He was taken before Justice Truitt and held for examination, his bail being fixed at $1000.

Evans did not bother his head about hunting any bondsmen, but simply took the officer out to his cabin in the willows, removed a portion of the flooring and dug up $1000 in gold and silver, which he deposited with the Justice.

During the delay which ensued before the examination took fixee, Evans occupied his time in selling out all his property and putting his affairs into shape.

'At last the day arrived for the enterprising bandit to appear before the bar of justice, and Assistant Dist. Atty. Williams went to Norwalk to conduct the prosecution. Court convened and then solemnly waited for an hour and a half. All in vain. Lochinvar had bolted, taking with him the fair Ellen and about $5000 in cold cash, leaving only the $1000 bail as a memento.

The deserted husband sat in the courtroom wearing the aspect of a sick kitten and the Justice and District Attorney were exceeding wroth, but in vain. Evans and his Dinah had vansets of the property had been and the part has a dear the and the sole with the property were exceeding wroth, but in vain. Two of the representative bondsmen were in the County Clerk's office yesterday, with Deputy District Attorney Holton, figuring out, with the aid of Deputy Clerks Varcoe and Whittemore, the exact amount they would have to provide themselves with on Monday in order to wipe out the famous defalcation of El Hammond.

The Jury Hanging.

The jury in Department Five, en-gaged in the trial of the suit for condemnation of a strip of land in Covina, demnation of a strip of land in Covina, brought by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company against J. B. Owens et al., had an awful time yesterday in making up its mind. The case went to the jury late in the afternoon, and at 10 o'clock in the evening they were as far as ever from an agreement.

The price of the strip of land to be condemned was fixed readily enough at $150, but the sticking point was the damages to be awarded for the injury done to the remaining half-acre. Three separate ballots were taken, one fixing the damages at $30, one at $35, and one at $40, but the jury stood eight to twelve at each vote, so at 10 o'clock they gave it up as a bad job and went home.

Case Against Murphy Dismissed.
W. J. Murphy, the attorney in the Mayne case who was accused of subornation of perjury in procuring an affidavit from Della Shipton, denying her testimony as to Mayne's guilt, came before Justice Young yesterday for examination, but Assistant District-Attorney Williams dismissed the case as against Murphy. The complaint still holds good against Mrs.
Shipton, but, as long as she and Della remain over the border, there is no testimony against Murphy, and consequently no case.

Storrs now brings suit against the county for the $25.70.

The answer was almost immediately filed by the District Attorney, and admits the claim for $24, but denies that Mr. Storrs is entitled to more than 15 cents as mileagle, which would cover one trip from his home to the Courthouse.

The question as to whether a juror is entitled to mileage in the exercise of his official duty has never been settled, so it is made a part of the test Case.

The suit will be tried before Justice Young at 10 a.m. today.

MISTAKEN FOR A HEN-THIEF.

Officer Michael Holleran was mis-taken for a hen-thief Wednesday night, and as a consequence the city came very near losing one of its most efficient guardians of the peace. Mr. Holleran was on his beat near Tenth and Flower streets, when he heard a police whistle in the direction of Mrs. John Bryson's residence. He hastened to the place and saw Mrs. Bryson leaning out of a window.

"Who are you?" asked the old lady as the officer hove in sight.

"Officer Holleran, madam, at your service," was the reply.

Mr. Holleran has caught many a hen-thief and burglar in his time, and he was only too glad for an opportunity to add one mere to his list of captives. Going to the rear of the premises he began stealthily to unfasten the gate to the chicken-yard, when "bang!" went a pistol on the inside and a bullet whistled close by Officer Holleran's head.

"Blocdy murder!" shouted the officer. "What in thunder are yez trying to do? Who is the spalpeen would be after shooting a policeman?"

HOUSE AND LOT.

ANOTHER SALE NORTH OF FIRST

Chase of the Nadeau Buys the Bellevue Terrace Property.

Movement on Foot to Widen West Ninth Street to Main Street.

Central Avenue-Clean Up, the County-Advantages of Boulevards-Building Notes.

Dealers continue to talk about dullness in the real estate market, but upon investigation it has been found that good sales are being made from day to day. It must be concluded that the real estate men have become somewhat spoiled by the prosperity of the past twelve months.

NORTH OF FIRST.

The interest that has been manf-ested in the section north of First street during the past few weeks still continues. A sale was made yesterday continues. A sale was made yesterday of the old Christian Church property, on the north side of Temple street, fifty feet east of Broadway. The lot, 50x100 feet, was sold by the church to J. Vogel, at $145 a front foot. This is certainly a reasonable price for property opposite the Courthouse. It is only a short time since Mr. Vogel purchased the lot at the corner of Temple street. and Broadway. He evidently knows—a and Broadway. He evidently knows—a and Broadway. He evidently knows a good thing when he sees it.

BELLEVUE TERRACE. Another noteworthy sale made yes-erday was that of the Bellevue Terrace property, at the northwest corner of Sixth and Pearl streets, fronting 270 feet on Pearl and 165 feet on Sixth. The property was sold by Col. R. H. Howell to H. W. Chase of the Nadeau Hotel, for $33,600. Mr. Howell bought this property about twelve months ago, through the same agents who have now sold it, for $29,000, of the Blake estate. He rented it to Mr. Chase at $250 a month, so that, including rental, he has made the neat profit of 28 per cent. has made the neat profit of 28 per cent. on his investment in twelve months. The price paid is equivalent to $125 a foot on Pearl street, including improvements, which probably cost something like $20,000 when they were erected, but are not worth anything like that amount today. Mr. Chase has a good bargain. Some of the furniture belonging to Col. Howell goes with the house.

WEST NINTH STREET. An important movement is under way r the improvement of West Ninth street. From Pearl street to the city limits the street varies from fifty sixty-seven and a half feet in wid There are proceedings now before the Council to make the street a nuiform width of seventy feet. From Pearl street to Main street the street is sixty feet wide. A petition, numerously signed by property-owners has been filed with the City Clerk, asking that this section of the street be widened ten feet on each side, making it eighty feet wide, which will correspond with the width of the street from Main to Alameda street. There should be no difficulty in making this improvement, as the only building of any importance on the line of the street is the Willamson block, at the corner of Ninth and Main, and the owner of this property has signed the petition.

It is a noteworthy fact that there is no street west of Main and north of Pico wider than sixty feet, except Seventh street, which was recently widened. Before many years this will be business property, and now is the time to widen the street, before valuable improvements are made. Between Seventh and Pico is a distance of three-quarters of a mile.

Another fact to bear in mind is that of a mile.

Another fact to bear in mind is that Ninth street is the only street in the city, with the exception of Seventh and First streets, running clear through from the west to the east city limits. It will doubtless before many years have a cross-town electric road. With a little exertion Ninth street may be made one of the most prominent etreets in the city, and the grant emen who have this movement in hand are working hard for that purpose.

CAHUENGA VALLEY. CAHUENGA VALLEY.

Residents of the Cahuenga Valley are endeavoring to have the route of the Pasadena and Pacific electric line changed somewhat, so that it will run along the Sunset boulevard. A meeting was held on Wednesday to arrange for cpening the boulevard to Santa Monica, and to see what could be done to induce the electric road to adopt this route. All those who are interested are requested to meet Tuesday next at the office of Harper, Reynolds & Co.

SANTA FE AVENUE.

One of the few remaining horse-car lines is that which runs from the Santa Fe depot down Santa Fe avenue to the CENTRAL AVENUE.

Owing to the extensive improvements that have been made during the past couple of years, the demand for proporty 157,105,05 102,575,05 that have been made during the past couple of years, the demand for property along the Central-avenue region continues to improve. An example of the manner in which prices have gone up in that section during the past few years was furnished by a sale recently made of the Central Avenue Gardens tract, at the corner of Jefferson street, covering between four and five acres, which was sold recently by J. H. Watson to Mrs. Eggert for 17000. Three years ago Mr. Watson purchased this property for 14000. An advance of 75 per cent, within three years, on property that brings in a rental, is not bad, even for Los Angeles.

CLEANING UP THE COUNTY.

Many citizens have commented favorably on the position taken by The Times on the difficulty experienced by owners of outside property in obtaining loans on that property at a reasonable rate, or at any rate of interest.

In commenting upon this subject a few days ago a gentleman who resides a short distance beyond the city limits cailed attention to one of the reasons why suburban property in this section is not held in better estimation. This is the lack of any attempt at hyglenic regulations on part of the county government. For instance, on Pico street, an important thoroughfare, just beyond the city line the road is littered with garbage of all descriptions. Then there is an insufferable nuisance at Nigger Slough, which seems to be beyond the will or the power of the county authorities to remedy. The condition of the roads of themselves is bad enough, but when to that is added other nuisances as those referred to it is no wonder that the suburban sections do not settle up more rapidly, as they certainly would if we had good, hard, well-sprinkled roads leading from the city, upon which it would be a pleasure for the business man to drive or ride his horse or bicycle to and from the city. It cannot, of course, be expected that the county government should exercise such strict control over the country as is done by the City Council, within the city, but taxpayers outside of the city feel that they should have something of a substantial nature to show for the taxes which they pay. It may be said that the suburban sections adjoining the city, but the whole county cannot come into the city.

ADVANTAGES OF BOULEVARDS.

ADVANTAGES OF BOULEVARDS.

A few days ago The Times gave an account of the peculiar and somewhat humorous controversy which has arisen over the attempt of a property owner to erect a plain tenement building flush with the sidewalk on one of the most exclusive-sections of aristocratic Adams street, within a stone's throw of Figueroa. Naturally such a desecration of this extremely fashionable thoroughfare has caused a vast amount of indignation among those who are so fortunate as to reside or own property there.

who are so fortunate as to reside or own property there.

A reader of The Times draws attention to the fact that if Adams street were a boulevard, such as they have in several Eastern cities, it would be impossible for anyone to build up to the sidewalk, as in that case a cortain amount of space back from the sidewalk is controlled by the city. although the residents have the full use of it. It would be a good thing to hurry up that boulevard around the city, before the outlying sections become thickly settled up, after which complications may arise.

REAL ESTATE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

REAL ESTATE IN SAN FRANCISCO The following frank admission, which is taken from the real estate column

The following frank admission, which is taken from the real estate column of the San Francisco Examiner, shows that in comparison with Los Angeles the market there is very dull:

"The real estate market is barely moving along. It has reached the dullest season of the year and is now quieter than it was in the summer months of June, July and August. On the whole, the year has not been a bad one. The condition of realty was so much depressed in the past two years that any improvement is grateful to the owner and dealer. Improvement there has been, and those whose property is now holding its own at only 20 per cent. discount on the figures of four years ago, may congratulate themseives. The building-up process is ever a slow one, and nothing topples so easily as the price of realty, particularly if there has been the least inflation."

Property-owners in Los Angeles would

Property-owners in Los Angeles would stand aghast if they were asked to accept 20 per cent. less than the prices paid four years ago. There is very little property in Los Angeles that can be bought today at an advance of 20 per cent. on the value at the close of 1891, while there are thousands of lets that would sell readily for twice the amount asked for them at that time.

REMEDY FOR DULL TIMES.

REMEDY FOR DULL TIMES.

While Los Angeles is by no means suffering from dull times, there are some points in the following remark by Thomes Magee, of the San Francisco Real Estate Circular, which might be read with profit by a few of our citizens who are well provided with this world's goods:

"It would be appropriate to ask those people-and their name is legion—who never cease complaining of the hard times, what they have done to make them better. If the times were Irreperably dull—that is, if nothing could be done to make them better—then the case would be hopeless, but almost innumerable projects are in sight awaiting work and money for their development, each of which would aid the farmers, tend to create better prices for land products, and assuredly increase our laboring, farming and mechanical population.

"The dull times of the past six years and the loss of city trade from notorious railroad discrimination resulted in the creation of one great project only of aid the city and State—the San Joaquin and the loss of city trade from notorfous railroad discrimination resulted in the creation of one great project only to aid the city and State—the San Joaquin Valley Railroad—which is already built a distance of twenty miles south of Stockton, and is being rapidly pushed toward its destination, Bakersfield. That road will be of incalculable benefit to the city and State, but there are many other projects calling for money and work, which should be pushed, but upon which no work is being done, or even proposed now to be done. The inveterate grumbler is generally a very rich man, who has made his money from the risks taken by and the work and enterprise of others.

When he complains he should be called on either to put up money to develop the State, or have a pick and shovel offered him with which himself to give his personal work. None of ous deserve to live in such a richly endowed State.
The majority of us came here dead broke or next door to it, and have made more money than our merits, work or usefulness entitle us to. Complaining is the last thing we should indulge in, for all of our troubles can be removed if we will honestly and patriotically give the time, work and money for their removal. In crying out about hard times we are simply proclaiming our own meanness, laziness, dishonesty and lack of civic or State patriotism. Let us work and put our hands into our pockets, if we want to have better times.

BUILDING.

The building boom, for it really may be termed a boom, keeps up in a truly remarkable manner, both in regard to residences and business blocks, which continue to go up in all directions. It is very doubtful whether any city in the United States with twice the population of Los Angeles can show such a record as that which is made by the building inspector in his last report. The value of buildings for which permits were taken out for the twelve months ending November, 1895, amounted to $4,855,338. As December was by far the lightest of the twelve months, there is little doubt that the total for the year 1895 will come very close to $4,000,000.

It is scarcely to be anticipated that total for the year 1895 will come very close to $4,000,000.

It is scarcely to be anticipated that this building activity will keep up at the same rate much longer. There is likely to be something of a pause. It is only natural that there should be. As to business blocks. The Times has already expressed the opinion that with the blocks now approaching completion we shall be pretty well provided in the way of offices and stores for six months to come, at least. As to residences, while there continues to be a good demand, owners of houses that have been erected for ten years or complain that they are difficult to rent, on account of the large number of strictly modern houses that have gone up during the past year. So many improvements have been introduced of late in house of medium cost, that the luxuries of five years ago have become the necessities of today.

One thing that tends to increase the demand for residences and will undoutbedly continue to create an active demand somewhat ahead of the growth of the city is the extension of the excellent system of selling houses and lots on monthly installments, with a small amount of cash down, which en douthedly continue to create an active demand somewhat ahead of the growth of the city is the extension of the excellent system of selling houses and lots on monthly installments, with a small amount of cash down, which enables thousands of men in receipt of moderate wages to become owners of their homes who would otherwise continue to rent.

SMELTING WITH PETROLEUM A Los Angeles Company Secures a Copper Mine.

Copper Mine.

Several months ago, mention was made in the business column of The Times of a company which had been incorporated it Los Angeles under the title of the Los Angeles Petroleum Smelting and Mining Company for the purpose of establishing a smelter, using petroleum as 'uel, under a new patent, invented by one of the incorporate. invented by one of the incorporators.

It is claimed that a saving of about $2.50 per ton can be made by using petroleum. The process is new in the United States, but has been utilized in Russia for several years. During the past few months the company has been looking around for a site for the works and for a good copper mine upon which smelted.

The company has men at work in the mine and is now debating whether to establish the works at the mine or in Los Angeles. In the former case there would be a saving in freight on ore, but the petroleum fuel would cost more, although there is oil at Hanford, in Fresno county, of high grade, which can be lad down at the mine for $2.50 per barrel. On the other hand, should the smelter be located in Los Angeles, this copper ore could be used as a flux to smelter be located in Los Angeles, this copper ore could be used as a flux to smelt large quantities of dry ores, existing in this section, where there is little conner or lead. There are no reduction works which handle copper in California, and such limited amounts of copper ore as are mined in the State are generally shipped by sea to Swansea, Wales.

BABY AND BURGLAR. A Thief Put to Flight by a Prattling Infant.

A baby was the means of putting a daylight burglar to flight day before yesterday. The mother of the infant heard her infant say "Man, man," and going to the room where the child was, she was confronted by a strange man, who was industriously engaged in a search for valuables. When the thief saw he was discovered he took to flight, but not before the woman had time to observe him closely and a good description of the rascal is now in the hands of the police. The burglar got only 10 cents, but if left unmolested could have gotten away with considerable booty. The name of the mother of the baby who detected the burglar is withheld from publication at her urgent request, as she shuns notoriety.

STRONG LANGUAGE DELIVERED FROM THE SUPREME BENCH.

"A Party Guilty of Such an Inex-excusable Breach of Good Plead-ing as Exhibited is not Entitled to Have it Lightly Condoned."

The Supreme Court has reversed the The Supreme Court has reversed the judgment of the Superior Court of Riverside county in the case of George W. Ryan, plaintiff and respondent, vs. Clara Holiday and others, defendants, and Heber Ingle, administrator, etc. appellant. While the legal points touched on in the opinion are not of unsually absorbing interest, the large touched on in the opinion are not of the usually absorbing interest, the lan-guage of the opinion, in commenting on certain pleadings, is of a character rarely induiged in by the State's highest tribunal.

In introduction the opinion says: In introduction the opinion says:
"The judgment in this case must be reversed for want of any averment that the note secured by the mortgage sought to be foreclosed has not been paid. The only allegation in this regard is: That the interest on said note and mortgage has been paid in full up to the 11th day of September, 1894, and there is now due and owing to the plaintiff the sum of $1200 with interest thereon at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum from the 11th day of September, 1894.

"This is not the equivalent of an averment of non-payment. The language There is now due, etc., is but a conclusion of law and not the averment of a fact. The breach of the contract to pay is of the essence of the cause of action and must be alleged.

The fact that no demurrer was interposed, and that judgment went by default makes no essential difference, since the defect goes to the statement of a cause of action, and that defect is not waived by a fallure to demur."

Continuing the opinion says: "White we are rejuctant, as suggested in Notman vs. Green (90 Cal., 172) to reverse a judgment upon such a technicality, and especially in favor of a defendant who has apparently stood by and permitted the court below to overlook an error susceptible of easy correction, and then takes advantage of such error on appeal, and while we would avoid the necessity, if possible, nevertheless, on the other hand, that consideration is largely neutralized by the further one, that a party guilty of such an inexcusable breach of good pleading as is here exhibited is not entitled to have it lightly condoned, but, should suffer the consequences."

The opinion is signed by Justice Van Fleet, and is concurred in by Justices Harrison and Garoutte.

THE SHOOTING WONDER.

Dr. Carver Will Show His Marvelous Skill.

Next Sunday afternoon at Agricultural Park Dr. W. F. Carver, the noted sharpshooter, will give a novel exhibition. At the grounds every thing is in readiness for what promises to be a wonderful exhibition. A high platform has been built, and a huge deep tank dug for the diving horse. That intelligent little animal will make a plunge of thirty-two feet head first like a human being. The mare remains under water one minute and ten seconds, it is said. Dr. Carver will also give an exhibition of his marvelous skill with rifle and shought on foot and on horse-back. His, horseback shooting is said to be a show in itself. The doctor has six beautiful horses at the fair grounds, all trained to perfection. Any one of them will give the visitor a kiss for a lump, of sugar, and play with ladies like a lot of children. Dr. Carver holds the cup awarded by English sportsmen for the champion pigeon shot of the world, awarded March, 1881; the Prince of Waies's feather, awarded March, 1880; the imperial favor in diamonds and rubies, awarded by Emperor Wilhelm, June, 1881; the champion medal of America, as a live-b.rd shot, won January 24, 1895. On Sunday he will give an exhibition of fast target shooting, sixfeen shots in ten seconds; air target three hits before reaching the ground; buillet shots at a brick in the air; wo before it falls; solid shot at a tossed apple; solid shot at wooden balls; base ball shot overhead, hitting a ball thrown at his head; ball shooting in great variety; lightning double shots with rife at balls in air; shots at tossed marbles and bluerooks; jump shots by which the shot tosses a glass ball and a second hits it; ten balls shot in air; in five seconds; orange and coin shots; hip and looking-glass shots; field and shoulder shooting; upside down shooting; shooting while on horseback; riding at full speed; double ball shots and other novel and unequaled feats. #### A CHINESE CENSUS.

It is Under Direction of the Treasury

Under direction of the Treasury Department of the United States government a census is being taken of the Chinese inhabitants. The work is divided into customs districts this district comprising the counties of Kern, Santa Barprising the counties of Kern. Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino, and as far east as Yuma.

On account of the limited number of deputies at his disposal Collector Gaffey has found it necessary to detail Chinese Inspector Putnam for the entire work. The census taking has numerous difficulties for, as those who have had experience in the matter know, the Chinese are not easy to obtain information from.

The district is so large that while the census is being taken in one part of it there is a very good opportunity for Chinamen who are unregistered to go to another part and thereby escape detection.

In the case of each Chinese resident there is recorded the name, residence, number of registration certificate (if the Chinese person be registered.) the sex, whether married or single and, if it be a married woman, the name of her husband.

Out of the first 800 whose names have been taken in this city, there are sixty females, which is an unexpectedly large number. The aggregate enrollment for this city and the near-by gardens, it is estimated, will amount to 6000.

For the whole district an estimate of what the enrollment will be places it at 20,000.

Inspector Putnam says that the Chinese are doing very well in the way of giving him the facts he wants.

Pederal Building Inspector.

Federal Building Inspector.

Inspector of Federal Buildings Garrison of the Treasury Department of Washington, D. C., arrived in the city yesterday afternoon. He will examine the postoffice today with a view to making changes in the arrangement of the several departments so as to economize the space. Plans which Postoffice Inspector Filint had prepared about six months ago will probably be submitted for Mr. Garrison's consideration. These plans contemplate a general change in the arrangement of the ground floor space and the removal of the money order department to the basetent, also the introduction of a freight elevator to ruft between the ground floor and basement. After leaving this city Mr. Garrison will visit Ban Diego and San Francisco.

Interesting Portraits by the Gree French Artist Tissot.

(Edith Coues, in the December Century:) Not the least cursous and interesting of the series are the so-called "portraits" of the personages of the Gosp-le, in which every possible distinguishing characteristic has been carefully studied and portrayed.

There are various representations of Mary, from her earliest youth, through maturity and old age; and in these M. Tisaot, while bringing his highest art and powers of imag nation to bear, has in no way departed from the hatorical records of the Jewish cusoms of th.s. t.mes. Thus, in the p.cture of the "Annunciation," there are no conventional furn-shings of the room, no accessories of a purely imaginative kind, such ar are found in all the pictures of the great masters on this subject. The room is bare of furniture, as were the sletping-rooms of the Jews; the narrow carpet, serving as bed, is unrolled, and one end slightly raised for the head; the Virgin, in a de-p-tlus gown, is on her knees, with clasped hands and slightly bowed head; and in a corner of the room is the angelic messerger. The portraits of the series, and differ slighly in manner from the later pictures, which have a certain patience in the working out of the detais that is not noticeable in thiss. The portrait of John is perhaps the most beautiful, as, young, puissant, inspired, he stands with upturned face and slightly outstretched hands, clad in a white and green robe, the shape and color alike significant.

There is Mary Magdalen before her conversation, brilliant and jewel-laden, but still with something of dawning spirituality in her eyes; later the penitent woman, though never represented as she has been generally conceived, with uncovered face and flowing hair, but veiled to the eyes, as was the invariable custom of the Jewish women of that day. Many beautiful scengs and places are represented, as, for instance, the garden and house in Bethany where Luzarus and his sisters lived, and where, soothed and comforted by an understanding and adoring friendship, Jesus so often came. ## Magnificent Masterpiece.

The attention of connoisseurs and critics in the world of art, and of all people of culture and refinement, is especially called to the fact that the lithographic reproduction of this celebrated painting was made under the special personal direction of the artist Moran himself. Every one of the twenty-one component colors used in the printing was first approved by the artist before being put upon the lithographic stone.

The Grandeur of the Gorge Portrayed.

The Grand Canyon of the Colorado, that wonderland of the world, pictured by an artist whose conception was striking, resistless, grand. Thomas Moran's painting, "THE GRAND CANYON OF THE COLORADO," Was the artistic triumph and sensation of the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago. The faithfulness of the artist in picturing the awful grandeur of the gorge; the delightful delicacy with which he has touched the rolling clouds of mist; the masterly manner in which he has handled Nature's coloring; that melodrama of flame and gold, and rose and wine and azure, is altogether

Although Mr. Spilman claimed to have ample proof of his charges, he desired to have the accused couple arrested under such circumstances that there could be no question as to their guilt. which was sprung at the opportune time, and resulted in the capture of both as desired.

After leaving the District Attorney's office Mr. Spliman went to his own office in the Bradbury Block and told his book-keeper, Compton, that he had business at Santa Monica, and would go there on the evening train, remaining all night. Compton drove him to the depot, and saw him off. Then, thinking the husband was out of the way, he proceeded to spend the evening with Mrs. Spliman, at her residence, No. 231 East Twenty-seventh street; as had been expected.

Mr. Spliman went only as far as University street, where he joined the officers, and proceeded with them to the Spliman residence where they lay in what till Compton arrived and was admitted. After the children had been put to bed, Compton and Mrs. Spliman themselves, apepared to retire.

After the watchers had waited long enough to make sure of their surmises, they entered the house. Compton, at the first sound of alarm, took refuge in a closet in the kitchen, where he was discovered before he had time to dress himself. Mrs. Spliman was found in her bedroom in her nightdress. Compton's shoes were under her bed.

Mrs. Spliman almost went into hysterics when arrested. Compton took the matter cocily. "Hello, Dad," said he as Mr. Spliman, pale as a ghest and trembling with rage, came in. "Tve caught you at last, you rascal," said Spliman, "and will make you suffer for this."

"We Point With Pride."

(Pasadena Star.) The Los Angeles Times commemorates its fourteenth birthday by issuing a special number this morning, in which is given a brief history of the progress of the paper from the day of its birth in 1881. The history is an index of the wonderful growth of Los Angeles itself. The Times has more than kept in advance of this rapid progress and has contributed very materially to stimulating it. It has evioved in fourteen years from a little seven-column folio, set up by hand and printed on a small press, to a great metropolitan journal, set up by machines and printed on the fastest Hoe presses built. The editors and propretors are justified in referring with pride to the record of its growth.

Small Wonder that it Has Called Out Tributes in Every Language.

(Benjamin Kijd, in the December Century:) Hark! From the depths of the straggling thicket which skirts the woods there comes now a scund in which there is somethig curiously weird when heard for the first time and from a distance. It is a bird singing in the night. Clear, soft, and distinct, the notes rise and fall in the silence. It is the nightingale; this is a favorite haunt of the birds. It is surprising how far the sound travels; even prising how far the sound travels; even after a quarter of a mile has been traversed in its direction it is still a considerable distance off. Similar sounds come now from the sopses above, but the birds have each appropriated a situa-erable distance off. Similar sounds come now from the copses above, but the birds have each appropriated a situation; solitary they sit without changing position, each in continuous song throughout the night. It is the male bird which thus sings to the female as she sits on the nest.

It is only a few steps from the thicket at last, and the songster cannot be more than twenty yards off. You do not wonder now at the estimate of the extraordinary quality of the bird's song; nor that it should have stirred the tongues of men to strophes in many languages. Full, rich and liquid the notes fall with a strange loudness into the still night. Yet it is not so much the form of the song itself which is remarkable as the passion with which lisems to thrill. Sweet, s-w-e-t, s-w-e-e-t-lower and tenderer the long-drawn out notes come, the last of the series prelonged till the air vibrates as if a wire had been struck, and the solitary singer seems almost to choke with the overmastering intensity of feeling in the final effort.

The stars shine through the feathery branches of the silver birches as you listen; the hoarse bay of the watch-dog still comes at intervals on the breeze; far down the valley burns the red eye of the railway signal; in the distance a coal train is slowly panting southward, a pillar of fire seeming to precede it when the white light from the engine fire shines upon the steam; but the bird still sings on and on. It is lost in a world to which you have no key; it has not changed its position nor ceased its song since sunset, and it will be singing still with the dawn. Strange infinity of nature! Thus must its kind have sung here while the name of England was yet unfashloned on men's lips, and it was still a pathless wood to the northern Thames. Thus do the birds sing still on the fringes of modern Babylon, chvious and indifferent to all that men consider the vast import of the seething life beyond.

ing the work of the world hitherto done by men, will find that nature, after all, is governed by laws that cannot be set aside, and that woman has duties, impossible for men to perform, which cannot be neglected. And men will learn that there is much in the activities of life which women can perform as well and perhaps better than they, and this they will cheerfully accord, while treating them still as women. In that way concord of view and of purpose will come again. But it may be safely predicted that it will not come until somfurther experiments have been tried, until the complete education of women puts them in possession of the full exercise of their natural powers and capacities, and teaches them their limitations, and the peculiar duties that belong to the human family by reason of the difference of sex. No one any longer disputes the right of woman to the fullest development of her powers by the education to be got from books and from life. Just now it seem to be assumed that this education should be exactly the same as that given to men. This experiment is bound to be tried to the end. While it is in progress there will be women aping men in manners and in dress, and losing the qualities that make women most lovely and agreeable to their own sex as well as to men; and there will be men who will declare that the education of women is a total mistake, because it is destructive of those feminine qualities and charms which make the world interesting and endurable. We have faith however, that nature's laws are unform, and that trees will continue to be ar fruit of their kind. We have no fear that the education of women is a fully conscious where her strength lies, and endurable. We have faith however, that nature has imposed upon her. We have not got very far with general education yet, but no one doubts that the salvation of society decent of the education of the one sex is as desirable as that of the other. To educate both alike might produce monotony, and sacrifice some of the best qualities in each. A m

Longfellow's "Hiawatha."

The Indian epic of "Hiawatha" took the world by surprise, writes Hezeklah Butterworth in an article "How Longfellow Wrote His Best-Known Poems" in December Ladies' Home Journal. Its form and its marter were for a long time mysteries. How could a Cambridge literary recluse produce such an epic? Certain critics claimed that the idea, form and magic treatment of the poem had been borrowed from a Soandlinavian sage, and the implication greatly disturbed his publishers, and must have caused his sensitive spirit great pain. It partly eclipsed for a time the new shar in the literary horizon on which all eyes were fixed. The criticism was disarmed, the wonder grew; a fixed star had appeared. But the mystery of the poem is simply solved. Longfellow desired to produce an epic that should be in sympathy with all that was most beautiful and noble in the vanishing Indian race. Abraham Le Fort, an Onondaya chieftain, had furnished Schoolcraft, the historian, much indian lore and many mystic traditions with certain Indian vocabularies, in which the musical and unmusical sounds of many words indicated their meaning. These traditions and vocabularies made the work of the poet easy. One only needs to read Schoolcraft, to whom the poet acknowledged his indebtedness, to see how this monument to the Indian race, their only great literary memorial, was fulficar Co. Longfellow's "Hiawatha."

Alleged Gambling Dive. It is not known to the police that an alleged gambling dive of the worst sort flourishes within almost a stone's throw of the City Hall, "Doc" Williams, alias of the City Hall, "Doc" Williams, alias Tondro, is the presiding genius of the place, and at night the room, which is in a frame building belonging to Charles A. Gardner of the Pasadena Star, is crowded with Mexicans, vagrants, boys from fourteen years old upward, and the toughs generally of the community, and quarrels are frequent over the winnings. It is feared by the business men adjacent to the place, that in one of these quarrels some night, a lamp will be upset, and the whole block destroyed by fire. Even should that calamity not occur, there is only one reason why the place has not been "pulled" by the police, and that is that the order has not come from the chief of the force to attend to it. Williams has been over-bold since his release on habeas corpus proceedings.

The creosote plant with which ocean piles were treated during the palmy days of the boom, when Ballona was prospectively the Liverpool of this Coast, is beling removed to San Francisco. This plant was a part of the stupendous scheme for dredging a harbor, constructing jetties, founding a town and building a metropolis into which three-quarters of a million dollars went It must be there now, for none of it has ever been taken out. The hull of a tug, which was part of a fine new boat when it entered the harbor, lies rotting in the sand which has washed in and filled the ambitions harbor to low tide line. When the creosote plant, parts of which have already been hauled away by twelve-horse teams, is finally removed, a few rotting buildings, a falling jetty on either side of the harbor entrance, an empty water tank on the hilf and the tug hull already mentioned will be about sil that is left of one of the most ambitious scnemes of the boom days.

ORANGE-GROWERS' MEETING. At the regular meeting of the directors of the Southern California Fruit Exchange yesterday afternoon, A. H. Cargili of Orange county, was elected secretary of the company, and the Los Angeles National Bank treasurer. A. W. Frost, who has been secretary pro tem., remains with the exchange.

Before adjo:nment the directors made the following appointments: Charles Eberling, agent at Cincinnati; R. W. Meachem, who has acted as broker at St. Louis for the exchanges, was reappointed in the same capacity, E. P. Brown, agent at Minneapolis; M. Truesdale of the Boston and South Riverside Fruit Company of Boston, agent at Boston; J. H. Seward & Co., agents at Baltimore; and J. R. Schneider, agent at New York city. This last appointment evoked mutual congratulations between the directors, as Mr. Schneider is one of the oldest fruit-dealers in New York, with a large connection and one of this best informed fruit men in the country.

The appointments previously made are: J. P. Gentry, agent at Memphis, Tenn.; P. E. Platt, resident agent Chicago; A. B. Wright, agent at Wichita; J. B. Powells, agent at Portland, Or.; W. H. Roy, Salt Lake City; T. F. Huggins, Cleveland, and William Winert & Co., agents at Philadelphia.

This leaves the following vacancies still to fill: Plittsburgh, Omaha, Kansas City, New Orleans, Atlanta, Fort Worth, Tex., and Montreil, Can.

W. E. Collins of the San Antonio exchange, who went East as a member of the committee appointed by the exchanges to explain to Eastern dealers the workings of the new plan for marketing oranges, has returned to Los Angeles, but will leave again for Chicago in a few days, where he expects to remain during the orange season. His duties in that city will consist largely in keeping the head offices in Los Angeles divised as to distribution of shipments, by keeping himself in constant touch with the resident agents throughout the Eastern and Western States.

CURING LEMONS. A. J. Everest, secretary of the Everest rancho of Riverside, Cal., which is probably the largest citrus plantation in Southern California, has written lately to the California Fruit Grower on the subject of curing California lemons. As the growing of lemons will soon become as great an industry as is, at the present time, the growing of eranges, everything which will help to throw light on the subject of curing them is always a subject of curing them is always a subject of interest. Mr. Everest writes:

"We pick our lemons whenever they are large enough, without regard to color, preferably while green or slightly turned, taking care that no smaller than 30 size to the box is picked, as the fruit shrinks some in curing, and thus increases the number to the box. We have used rings to determine the size, but find it too much trouble to try a ring on each lemon, and now give each packer a lemon of the proper size, and let him compare his pickings continually.

"After being picked we haul them to CURING LEMONS. A. J. Everest and let him compare his pickings continually.

"After being picked we haul them to the shed, and pile them up in the picking boxes for two or three weeks, or until most of the moisture is dried out before placing them in the curing-house. We then wrap each lemon in tissue paper, and lay them on trays one layer deep, having previously graded the fruit. We then store them in our curing-house which, is made with double walls, filled in with sawdust to keep the room at an even temperature. We have ventilators in ceiling and floor of room, and regulate amount of fresh in and temperature by them, allowing room, and regulate amount of fresh air and temperature by them, allowing temperature to stand from 56 to 60 as a rule.

"Storage curing trays are about three inches deep with a cleat on each end raising them up to allow the air to circulate among the fruit and keep everything dry as far as advisable.

"We find that fruit picked early and while quite green, say in November, always cures the best, and with the least possible shrinkage or loss by decay.

"When packing the fruit for shipment, the wraps that we're used for curing, can be used except where the paper has been moistened by decay in the vicinity, or is torn or wet from other causes. It is better to remove all old wraps, regrade the fruit, and then pack the same as oranges, using if possible the Sicily style of box, which is obtainable now on this Coast."

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS. AMENDMENTS TO MEXICAN LAWS. Joseph G. Dennelly, United States Consul-General to Mexico, in a report to the State Department, a printed copy of which has just been issued, gives at some length the prominent features of the amendments to the Mexican constitution so strongly urged by President Diaz on the Mexican Con-gress. The amendments which, if passed, are likely to affect trade be-tween the United States and Mexico are the following: he following: The States shall not:

the following:

The States shall not:

Coin money, issue paper money, stamps, or stamped paper.

Tax passage of persons or effects through their territory.

Prohibit or tax, directly or indirectly, the introduction or exit from their territory of domestic or foreign merchandise.

Impose on the circulation or consumption of domestic or foreign merchandise duties or taxes of a nature to be collected by internal customhouses, or to require the opening or examination of packages, or to necessitate the transportation of goods under fiscal documents.

Issue or maintain laws or fiscal enactments implying distinction as to taxation or requirements, based on the places of origin of domestic or foreign merchandise, and whether the distinction be enforced by way of protection to local production or by way of favor to products coming from a given locality.

Another amendment provides:

of Commerce at Town Hall last evening was adjourned until Friday evening of this week, when all members are urged to be present, as there is considerable business that needs immediate attention.

Work on the electric line has been suspended, and the workmen withdrawn. The track is down and well ballasted as far as Seventeenth stream of public safety or police, the circulation of the circula

Donnelly says: "If pushed (and there is reason to believe they will be) they may provoke a struggle which will determine Mexico's place in modern progress, and be decisive of the national supremacy. If passed and enforced, our trade with Mexico will be greatly inoreased."

our trade with Mexico will be greatly increased."

Mexico is a country so heavily tariff-taxed under its present system of government that it is to be hoped these amendments may become laws. It would be greatly to the benefit of the people of that country that they should, for, as pointed out by Consul-General Donnelly, the passage of them would mean increased trade with the United States, and that means, in turn, greater comforts and lower prices for commodities than what Mexicans are and have been paying. The benefits that would accrue to that country through closer commercial relations with the United States would be greatly in excess of any that would accrue to the people of this country.

TREATING OIL WELLS. TREATING OIL WELLS. According to the American Manufacturer another test was made at Findiay, O., of the method of treating oil wells with hydrochloric acid. It is known as the Van Dyke-Frasch method. The test is said to have been a marked success. The well upon which the test was made is owned by the Ohlo Oil Company, near Findiay. One hundred and eighty carboys of acid were used in the well. Before the test the well yielded about five barrels of oil a day. A few days later the yield had increased to thirty-five barrels a day.

CAUCASIAN CRUDE OILS. A translation from a German chemical treatise describes the process by which the crude Caucasian oils are refined. It says: "The refining of the distilled product is accomplished by treating it with sulphuric acid of 66 deg. Be., a solution of soda and by washing it with water. The factory handles annually 3500 to 4000 tons of crude oil, and produces therefrom 2500 to 2500 tons of petroleum of .825 specific gravity, and 500 to 600 tons of heavy mineral oils of from 0.885 to 0.906 specific gravity. Of by-products there are produced annually 120 tons of machine oil, 100 tons of solid greases and sixty tons of different other products. This factory consumes annually 1000 tons of coal, 130 tons of sulphuric acid, eight tons of soda-ash and eight tons of quick-lime.

NEW INCORPORATIONS. The California Oil and Transportation Company yesterday filed articles of incorporation. The purpose of the company is to own and operate steamers and other means of transportation, for oil and other products and merchandise. The five directors are: William F. Botsford, Carl Laux. Thomas W. Phelps, Frederick W. Filnt and M. W. Turner. The capital stock is $25,000. divided into shares of the par value of $100 each. One hundred and twenty shares have been subscribed.

REAL ESTATE SALE. Col. R. Howell has sold to H. W. Chare the Bellevue Terrace property for $33,600. The sale was made through Clark & Bryan. The old Christian Church property on Temple near Broadway, has been purchased by J. Vogel, through Lee A. McConnell, for $145 a foot.

LoS ANGELES, Dec. 12, 1895.
Lady Washington beans are lower-priced than yesterday. There are some changes in the quotations for poultry. Potatoss, good stock, are held firmly. Trade has been rather dull this week in several lines, but it is expected to revive some time before Christmas.
(The following quotations are for average grades of the products mentioned. For an extra choice article a somewhat better price than the highest quoted can usually be obtained, while for a product of decidedly inferior qualtity the seller will probably have to accept less han the lowest published quotation.) Provisions.

Saved from a Lion by a fillow.

(December Scribner's:) An English officer was shooting recently in Somaliand. One night when he was in bed inside his tent, a lion sprang over the rough thorn fence, which it is usual to throw up around one's encampment at night. Instead of picking up one of the men or animals that must have been lying asleep inside the fence, he would have none but the sportsman himself; made a dash into his tent and seled him, fortunately only by the hand. Then by some wonderful piece of luck, as the lion changed his grip for the shoulder, he grabbed the feather pillow instead, and so vanished with his prize. The pillow was found next morning several hundred yards distant in the Jungle, and outside were also the spoor of a lioness, who had evidently been awaiting the return of her lord with something eatable. Saved from a Lion by a Pillow.

e work this year seems to have been rather arduous for the different members have been hard at work for about three weeks or more, but the re-port is expected now any time, and when it is filed a summary of the same will be given in these columns. WORKING TOGETHER.

selves of the opportunity to visit Santa Ana on some one of the several excursions that are to be run from the metropolis of Southern Calfornia—Los Angeles—to this city during the coming winter months, over the Southern Pacific and perhaps the Southern California Raliroad, too.

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday evening, at which time the initiatory steps in the matter of entertaining the visitors were taken. The meeting was attended by members of the Chamber of Commerce, and those who were not members, but who have the welfare of Santa Ana and Orange county at heart, and consequently many good points were brought out in the discussion as to how best to entertain the visitors when they come.

ome.

After President McFadden called the meeting to order, Mr. Warner, representing the Southern Pacific Railroad, was asked to outline briefly what they proposed to do in the matter of inaugurating these branch excursions out from Los Angeles, so that the tourists who are constantly pouring into the Southern metropolis could have an opportunity to get out into the country districts to get a better and more accurate idea of what Southern California really it. This the gentleman proale logs of what Southern Cantornally it. This the gentleman proded to do, and his talk was very nilar to that made a week ago when appeared before a few of the promni residents of the city, to start the birsion ball to rolling, a report of loh appeared in The Times the fol-excursion ball to rolling, a report of which appeared in The Times the following day.

At the conclusion of Mr. Warner's talk, W. W. Crosier, local representative of the Southern California road, stated to the gentlemen present that he did not want to see any arrangement made with the Southern Pacific 1981 that would bar the city from paying the same attention to passengers brought in over the Santa Fe. In other words, he desired to state that when it came to excursions to Santa Ana or any other place, the "Santa Fe would be strictly in it." James Mc-Fadden then made liberal profters of the use of the Santa Ana and Newport Railroad, after which it was decided that a committee of five, as an executive committee, should be appointed, to be known as the Executive Committee on Excursions, into whose hands the matter of entertaining the visitors will be placed, the committee to have full and complete control of the whole business, and the power to appoint such subcommittees as it may deem advisable. Following are the names of the gentlemen who compose the committee: E. D. Waffle, Dr. J. A. Crane, C. W. Humphreys, S. H. Finley, Dr. M. A. Menges.

From indications now, the entertainment of the visitors will be a success. The residents seems enthusiastic, and those who are interesting themselves in the matter are good workers, and prominent citizens. The Executive Committee, each and every one of them are good workers, and they will surely carry the measure through to success.

The fire originated from a lamp that fell from the little girl's hands while she was passing through the room. Loss about $3000; fully insured.

MUST APPEAR IN COURT. Mention was made in The Times several days ago that trouble was brewing between the officers and some boys in between the officers and some boys in Santa Ana of good parantage, and the climax seems to have been reacked to-day, when Roy Reed was arrested on a charge of petty larceny. Officer Gra-ham has been digging up the case for the past week or more, and the names of a number of boys in town have been connected with the stealing of a riata from A. Goodwin, but no publicity was given the matter until an arrest had Young Mr. Reed says that he did not commit the theft, but the officers are not satisfied with this statement, and he was put under $300 bonds to appear tomorrow (Friday) before Justice of the Peace Huntington at 10 o'clock to answer to the charge against him.

There has been considerable petty thleving done over the county the past several months, and the officers are determined to check such further depredations if possible.

VERY LOW TIDES.

Next Saturday, Sunday and Monday there will be extremely low tides, and many residents of Santa Ana and vimany residents of Santa Ana and vicinity will avail themselves of the opportunity to gather rare mosses and shells along the sandy and rocky shores. On Saturday at 2:29 p.m. the tide will be nine inches below low tide. On Sunday it will be fourteen inches below at 3:15 p.m., and on Monday at 3:57 it will again be fourteen inches below low tide. Laguna and Arch Beaches will no doubt be more extensively visited upon this occasion than any of the other beaches in Orange county.

The Bachelors succeeded in vanquishing the Benedicts after a well-fought game of seven innings, the score standing 16 to 24. No doubt the married men would have won had not darkness settled down on the diamond, for they were just getting in their best blows when the umpire called the game. Coleman Broughton was the umpire, and he appeared on the field in complete armor; this fact alone saved his life. A return game will be played in the near future.

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 12.—(Regular Correspondence.) Although Trustee Barton's resignation does not take effect until January I, the question of his successor is already being discussed, both in the Board of Trustees and by citizens of the ward generally. EARLY ORANGE HARVEST.

For the first time in the history of the orange industry in Southern California, the orange harvest opened with the month of December, and the orchards of this valley will furnish most of the oranges which will supply the holiday market at the East.

There is another feautre of the situation which is exceedingly satisfactory to orchardists. There is many an owner who, this season, will receive more for his crop of oranges than he could have sold his land for in the spring. The crop is so large and the prices promise so well that it is no exaggeration to make this statement.

About 120 carloads have thus far been shipped. Of these about 100 cars have been billed out from this station by the Santa Fe, and twenty cars from Colton by the Southern Pacific. At all of the exchanges and all the packing-houses work is now in full blast, and it seems quite certain that from 400 to 500 cars will have been shipped by December 25, not an inconsiderable portion of the crop. This is more surprising when it is remembered that only a very few cars had been shipped at Christmas last year.

And the price is still as satisfactory

And the price is still as satisfactory And the price is still as satisfactory as could be wished. Good navels are selling f.o.b. at $2.25 per hox, and the demand is in excess of the supply. Whether this price will rule after New Year's is a question in which orange men are interested, but with careful marketing the impression prevalls that there will be no drop in prices.

The market opened last year at $2.50, but it very quickly went down to $2. Later it rallied to $2.25, and in rare cases $2.40 was paid.

The Redlands district alone reports that about fifty cars have been shipped, and estimates that 100 cars will go out before Christmas, or almost one-sixth

That Dr. Frost was not paid for his services is probably due to some one's neglect, but now that the claim has been filed with the Public Administra-tor, who is closing up Judge Brunson's affairs, the bill will no doubt be al-lowed, when it is presented in court.

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 12 -(Regular Correspondence.) The action brought by the Southern Pacific Company against Auditor Clancy to prevent his apportioning certain moneys raised in Desert school district by a special levy for school purposes, presents an amusing feature. The amount of money to be raised by this special levy was $2000, and the Southern Pacific Company's assessment, which has already been pald to the Tax Collector, was $2017.68. It was found that the election was illegal, and the company brings suit to get its money back. The company could have brought suit against the district for the money after it was paid to the trustees, but if the money was used for building a schoolhouse as intended, another levy would have to be made, in which case—and this is where the joke comes in—the company would have to pay all the taxes levied. The only way was to stop the money before it got into the hands of the trustees.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY. Prominent Citisens Hurt in a Fight Grand Army Elections.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 12.—(Regular Cor-respondence.) Col. Adolphus G. Gassen of Gov. Gassen is reported to have sunk his teeth in the plump cheek of Manning. The scalps of both men were lacerated. The cause of the fight is said to have arisen from Manning's intimation that Col. Gassen was a minion of one of the water schemers. Gassen retorted with the direct assertion that Manning was a "d—d liar." The latter hit the Cclonel a sound thump on the skull with his cane. This aroused Col. Gassen's war blood. The Colonel is of Dutch extraction and when riled he is quite a fighter with his fists, as well as with his mouth. He secured Barney's head "in chancery," as the sluggers call it, and pummeled Manning's Irish face severely. Finally his victim broke away. After a few more rounds of banging one another's noses the pugilistic San Diego officials were separated and started off to repair damages. Whether Gov. CAUSES MUCH EXCITEMENT. How the Sensational Suit Affected

How the Sensational Suit Affected San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 12.—(Special Dispatch.) The charges of bribery against City Councilmen and E. S. Babcock, promoter of the Southern California Mountain Water Company, which seeks a $1,575,000 contract with the city for a water plant, the details of which appeared in The Times today, caused a profound sensation. The supply of Times was exhausted at once and the newsboys sold all they could get for 25 cents a copy. People who were fortunate enough to secure a paper read the report to crowds of eager listeners in real estate offices and elsewhere.

The statement of Harry L. Titus, lawyer of Babcock, that "this complaint is verified by J. M. Howells, who left the county as soon as he swore out the complaint. If he ever returns he certainly will be arrested and prosecuted for perjury," is surprising. Howells is president of the Flume company. An officer of that company laughed at Titus's statement, saying to the correspondent that Howells was expected to return in a day or two from a trip North, where he has been attending to alarm among citizens who believe the law requires absolute secrecy as to doings of that body. Citizens ask what juror is guilty of divulging grand jury secrets. The opinion prevails that the jury should compel Titus to divulge the name of his informant furnishing the information illegally. The publication of jury proceedings by an interested party excites widespread suspicion of crooked work. Said one prominent citizen and a large taxpayer: "Titus' statement as to what the present grand Jury is doing will tend to smirch the integrity of that jury in public opinion miless prompt investigation is made and the parties punished who are, divulging proceedings which the law enjoins must be kept secret."

ONTARIO.

ONTARIO.

ONTARIO, Dec. 12.—(Regular Correspondence.) Ontario is becoming a great convention town. The woman of missions and the young woman of the Christian association have come and gone, and now we are to entertain the ministers of the San Diego district of the Methodist Episcopal Conference. Next Tuesday and Wednesday will be occupied by their sessions. Some of the brightest preachers in the conference will take part in the programme.

North Ontario is a busy place these days. Every available room is occupied by some branch of the fruit industry, and two large packing-houses are being built to accommodate the growing business. It is estimated that the lemon and orange crop the coming season will aggregate 700 carloads and nearly all this fruit will be shipped via the Santa Fe.

party of friends in a very pleasant manner on Tuesday evening. The party was given in honor of Miss Pierson of Idlewild.

Supervisor Holbrook has been making a quiet investigation into the merits and demerits of the rhizobil ventralis. The results of this still hunt are not in accord with the accepted report of the Horticultural Commissioners, who declared that the lady-bugs were very much dead. On several orchards good live colonies of the rhizobius were found, and no black scale was in evidence wherever the lady-bugs appeared. Mr. Holbrook believes that the rhizobius is destined to cut a big swarth in the scale-eating business.

The fruit shipments for the past week were as follows: Oranges, $56 boxes; lemons, $92 boxes; green fruit, 1042 pounds; dried fruit, $1,647 pounds. This is a total of nine and a-half carloads. Rev. M. B. Shaw will lecture on "Paganism" in Somerset Hall next Monday evening. The lecturer has traveled widely in Asiatic countries, and will speak from personal observation.

Ontario real estate miles to the amount of $28,500 were reported a few days since. To this amount should have been added the following sales of the Hanson addition: W. J. Mayer, ten acres, $1800; C. M. James, ten acres, $2000; A. Sly, ten acres, $2000; Thomas Ryles, ten acres, $1800; G. Mayer, ten acres, $1800; G. Mayer, ten acres, $1800; G. Mayer, ten acres, $1800; G. Patterson, ten acres, $1500; A. V. Quilter, ten acres, $1500; J. G. Parkinson, $24,485. This is a total of $44,285, and represents the sales of Hanson & Co., to the British colonists recently brought here by Mr. Hanson. Maj. R. B. Kirchoffer of this firm left on Wednesday for England, and on his return it is expected that Ontario's population will be very materially increased.

The fruit shipments for the week aggregate nine and one-half carloads, divided as follows: Oranges, $95 boxes; lemons, 592 boxes; green fruit, 1045 pounds; dried fruit, 81,647 pounds. Fancy prices are being made from orchards here, in which it has been reported that no rhizobius co

LIQUOR LICENSE RAISED. Last evening the Town Trustees at a special meeting took up the liquor license question and reconsidered their action taken at the regular meeting on Monday, at which time they fixed the city liquor license at $400 per annum, payable in full in advance. The liquor men were represented by special counsel, N. Blackstock. After considerable argument the motion to reconsider prevailed, and the license rate was fixed at $600 per annum, payable in full in advance. As there are ten regular saloons in this city, all but one of which will continue under the provisions of the new ordinance, the town treasury will start out in January with $5400 cash in hand. This action of the Board of Trustees is looked upon with disfavor by some of the liquor men, but is regarded as a benefit by the majority. The true inwardness of the board's action is said to be due to influence exerted by the liquor men who favor high license, and who hope by the action of the town board to forestall any action which the Board of Supervisors may have had in contemplation in the matter of increasing the liquor license. Under a recent decision of the Supreme Court the validity of any act passed by the Supervisors which may affect city licenses, is questioned. As the county license is $600 in advance, the present rate fixed by the Town Trustees will make the rate uniform throughout the county. In all there are 21 saloons in the county, which at $500 each, makes a tidy revenue from this one source.

The deceased was from all appearances a well-kept, intelligent man, and unquestionably followed newspaper work of some description for a nvellihood. His clothing was custom-made, of fine quality, though showing trues. lihood. His clothing was custom-made, of fine quality, though showing traces of wear. Opinion is divided as to his having been under the under of liquor when he retired Tuesday night. His death was clearly premeditated, as a search of the room revealed the fact that he had lighted several matches while adjusting the pistol to his forehead with the aid of the looking-glass on the bureau. The position of the body, as it was found, proved conclusively that he had stood directly in front of the glass, and with the aid of lighted matches, made certain of his aim.

ABROGATING OLD CONTRACTS. TOPEKA, Dec. 12.—At the meeting of the new board of directors of the Atch: the new board of directors of the Atchison here today a number of contracts entered into by the old management were abrogated. The only one of special importance, however, was the one existing between the road and the Pullman Sleeping Car Company. A new contract may be entered into with the Pullman company, but the action of the board coupled with the fact that President Ripley came to Topeka in a Wagner sleeper, has caused many to believe that a change is contemplated.

The affairs of the Los Angeles road were brought before the public some time ago during the excitement over the failure of the Pacific Bank and the trial of R. H. McDonald. (Cor. Woodland Democrat:) Talk about life, push, energy, go-aheadativeness, etc.! You find it all in Los Angeles. The hammer and the saw wake you up in the morning and lull you to sleep at night. As high as eighty permits to build have been taken out in a single week. In a short drive the other day we counted over thirty new buildings. In the busin sspart of town land is valued at from $1500 to $2000 per front foot. In the residence part of town, as far out as Twentieth attact, lots are worth from $800 up. An ordinary cottage of five or six rooms rents for $20 to $30 per month. Last year the increase in children Between 5 and 17 years of age was 2000; this year it is the same, it is impossible for the Board of Education to build schoolhouses fast enough for the increase.

I suppose that there is no place on arth that is so well advertised as Los tageles. It certainly has a most designiful climate. I am told that south and west there is a great deal of very fine land. The oil wells appear to be comparatively inexhaustible. They have a competing railroad, and in time it may become a great manufacturing city. Notwithstanding all this, I firmly believe that if our own Yolo county had the progressive spirit of the people pf this sunny south land, this country would not be in the race at all. Nature has been very lavish with us in the way of soil and climate, but somehow or other we haven't the push.

STEVENSON'S SAMOAN HOME.

The December St. Nicholas publishes a number of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Letters to Young Friends." Lloyd Osborne, Stevenson's step-son, describes the novelist's Samoan home as follows, in the introduction to the letters."

Osborne. Stevenson's step-son, describes the novelist's Samoan home as follows, in the introduction to the letters:

Mr. Stevenson knew as little as you do about Samoa and the remote South Seas when, several years ago, he came to San Francisco and set sail in a beautiful schooner yacht, hoping the trade wind would blow him to some pleasant isle, where he might get well and strong again. The "Shining Ship" (for that was what the natives called her) poked her snarp nose into many a sweet bay and dark-blue lagoon, and passed from island to island through calm and storm, and picked her way through surf-swept reefs, where the sharks played like minnows beneath her keel, but she came no nearer the haven for which she was in search. At last she reached an island called Oahu, which was so pleasant to look at, and so agreeable to live in, that Mr. Stevenson thought his voyage was over. The King of Oahu was a very agreeable man, too, and wished Mr. Stevenson never to go away, but to stay with him all his life and be his friend. So Mr. Stevenson stayed many months in Oahu, and would have been very happy and contented had it not been for the trade wind, who was always telling him about the fine islands further on, until he was persuaded to say good-by to the King and set sail again.

The Trade Wind took him a long road and through many queer and dangerous places before he brought him within sight of Upolu, in Samoa, and told him to pack up and go ashore, which Mr. Stevenson was very glad to do, for he quite agreed with the Trade Wind that Upolu was the finest island in the whole ocean. Here he bought a large tract of land, which he called "Vaillma," and built a big house, and planted bananas and breadfruit trees and cocoanuts and mangos and other trees with starnge names, in order to feed the brown people who gathered about him and made him the head of their tribe. They called him "Tusitala," or the "Writer of Talee," for his own name was too hard for them to say. In a short time Mr. Story-teller grew well and strong, just

Medineval Florentine Tale Has Modern Moral.

A Mediaeval Florentine Tale Has a Modern Moral.

There is a story in the December Harper's which illustrates the absolute futility of a man's attempt to interfere in the domain of feminine dress. The story is told by Thomas Wharton, and concerns a Florentine love episode of the time of the Lorenzo Medici. The hero cherished a Dantean or Petrarcian affection for a noble lady. To her he addressed sonnets; for her he did great deeds. For six years he played the part of perfect lover, as worshipful at the end as at the beginning. Then one day she told him that he might claim a reward at her hands. He had a poet's soul. He loved tenderness, and he loathed to see his lady decked with the feathers of birds. He begged her, as a boon, to cesse wearing them, and deep was her disgust and prompt her expression of it.

Then, as the result of a plot, he being a friend of the Medicis, was cast into a dungeon, where he had time to meditate on Madonna Ghita's canriciousness and heartlessness, and his heart returned from its poetic wanderings after her as after a star to his wife Francesca. He was released from prison and went to her, and her joy was great at his safety, and she forgave him his poet's truant fancy. Then he noticed that she, too, wore the feathers, and he begged her to give them up. And then the storm that she had denled his coldness and his fickleness burst forth, and right soundly did the wifely Francesca berate her lord that he should dare dictate to her concerning her apparel.

road were in such a condition that the stock was some distance below par. It was said that the road was losing money, and that there was no immediate prospect for its success. Some months ago the bondholders formed a combination by which they secured a majority of the stock and the absolute control of the property. In effect a sale of the entire plant was made. M. H. Sherman was installed as president of the company with the announced understanding that he would represent the stockholders. The road is now said to be on a paying basis and some of the stockholders compain that they were deprived of their property rights in an illegal and most unwarranted manner. The charges in the complaint are severe and direct and allege that the so-called sale of the road was in fact nothing more than an appropriation of property.
